Mississippi Flood Lasts to May 12

Chicago Daily News Special

East Dubuque, Ill.—Ten days ago 67-year-old Arnold Hattendorf stood on his back porch and watched the rising Mississippi River lap against the sandbags hugging his house.

"I am not worried about it," said the slim gray-haired, retired lumber yard operator as he looked out on his neat lawn and carefully kept flower beds.

"I am optimistic the house will stay dry."

Hattendorf's house did stay dry—unless you count the eight feet of filthy water in his basement that reaches to within two inches of the ceiling joists.

And there will be no spring flowers this year.

The lawn and flower beds lie under 600 tons of sandbags and clay that completely surround the house

East Dubuque was no longer in the headlines last week.

Flood Still Here

But the worst Mississippi flood in history is still here. And it is likely to remain for weeks to come.

Although the record crest of 26.8 feet—10 feet above flood stage—was reached 2 weeks ago Saturday, the river has dropped only a little since then.

It still stands several feet deeper than the previous record flood level. The Weather Bureau forecasts that it will be May 12 before the Mississippi recedes to its normal bed.

Seven hundred of the city's 2,300 residents are still out of their homes and may not be permitted to move back until mid-May or later.

An estimated 250,000 tons of clay has been dumped into the city streets to form the dike that saved the city from inundation

Soon will come the clean up

Expensive

"It's going to be expensive," said Thomas Cerny, assistant civil defense director.

"We're never going to get the volunteer help to tear down the dikes that we got to put them up.

"By the time we clean up all the clay and the sandbags, fix all the streets that have caved in and buckled and realign all the sewers, it's going to be at least a year before the city is back to normal and it's going to cost us $500,000," said Cerny.

Levee Leak Eases City Flooding

Hannibal, Mo. (AP)—The rampaging Mississippi River broke through a levee five miles north of Quincy, Ill., Saturday, flooding thousands of acres of farmland and easing the flood threat at the downstream cities of Quincy and Hannibal.

The flood crest had been expected to hit those cities Sunday, but the Weather Bureau said enough water was drained off in the levee break to delay the crest until Tuesday in the Quincy-Hannibal area. Fifteen city blocks already are flooded in Hannibal.

And when the crest hits, it is expected to be only between 24.4 and 24.7 feet at Quincy and between 24.1 and 25.5 at Hannibal—a foot lower than was expected. Flood stage is 16 feet.

Army engineers said this probably will mean no more major flooding.

Flood waters ran 15 feet deep across 7,700 acres of rich farmland after Saturday's levee broke, increasing the amount of land under water in Adams County, Ill., to 25,000 acres. More than 20,000 acres are covered in Henderson County, 70 miles north.

The river dropped several inches at Quincy and Hannibal after the break.

Warm Day May Be Followed by Light Showers

Generally fair to partly cloudy skies are forecast for much of Nebraska today as temperatures remain unseasonably warm in the east and central but cooler in the Panhandle.

Scattered showers are likely for the Panhandle area and possibly in the Lincoln vicinity, according to weathermen.

State temperatures will range from the lower 90s in the east and upper 80s in the central to the upper 60s and lower 70s in the Panhandle.

Weathermen indicate that increasingly moist air lies south of a warm front currently extending from southwestern South Dakota through northeastern Nebraska

Pakistan To Remain Neutral

Khan Ready To Talk Peace

Karachi, Pakistan (AP)—President Mohammed Ayub Khan declared Saturday Pakistan will follow its neutralist path no matter what the United States thinks At the same time he told India he is ready for peace talks or total war over disputed India-Pakistan borders

Although officially neutralist since independence from Britain in 1947, Pakistan under Ayub has been closely tied with the West. It has received Western aid and is a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), a Western defense group

Recently, however, Pakistan and Communist China have generated friendliness and this has concerned Washington.

Speaking on his monthly radio broadcast to the nation, Ayub defended his recent trips to Moscow and Peking. He had been scheduled to visit Washington but President Johnson postponed the invitation last month, saying the Vietnam crisis and the congressional crush is keeping him busy.

Ayub said he went to the Soviet and Red Chinese capitals to promote peace and to search for a "meeting ground for the major powers whose interests clash in Asia."

Then referring to the United States, he said

"It is unfortunate that our efforts in this direction have occasionally been misunderstood by some of our friends. A little reflection will show that in doing so we are . . . promoting the interests of those who are struggling for peace.

"It is our duty to create understanding and amity on as wide a basis as possible. And this objective we shall continue to pursue."

Ayub took over leadership in a coup in 1958, after which he ruled as strongman. He was elected to a five-year presidential term early this year.

Ayub began criticizing the United States sharply in 1962 for sending military equipment to India. At the time, India was fighting a mountain war against Communist Chinese troops in a dispute involving northern frontiers

Ayub claimed the Indians would use the military equipment against Pakistan. India and Pakistan long have been feuding over Kashmir in northern India and lately over the Rann of Kutch, a wasteland near the India-Pakistan west coasts

Peace Mission Sent By Latin Countries

Washington (AP)—President Johnson announced late Saturday night that about 2,000 additional Army paratroopers and Marines are being added to the American military forces in the Dominican Republic.

Earlier, the Organization of American States had appointed a five-nation peace mission to go there to seek a peace agreement in the strife-torn Caribbean nation

Johnson said the new troops were being sent into the area because those on hand—close to 5,000—were "thinly spread and subject to continuing attack and sniper fire."

The president, in a statement issued at 10 p.m. EST, said that under present circumstances the American forces centered around Santo Domingo did not have a capability adequate for its mission.

Nine Square Miles

Johnson described that mission as establishing a neutral zone of refuge in Santa Domingo and keeping the port area of Haina "free from attack from any side" He said the current responsibility of the American troops "extends over nine square miles of a largely urban area."

Johnson said the new force, which was already moving into position, consisted of some 1,500 men from two battalions of the 82nd Airborne Division.

In addition, he announced, further detachments of Marines were moving in.

OAS Praised

In still another statement issued simultaneously, Johnson applauded the Organization of American States, saying it "acted decisively" in creating the committee from five member states to go to the Dominican Republic, work for a cease-fire and investigate the situation there.

Johnson said the United States is ready to support with every resource the inter-American system and "will help carry out the solemn judgments of the assembled American Republic."

The president said this is the goal of the United States in the Dominican Republic

"That the people of that country must be permitted to freely choose the path of political democracy, social justice and economic progress"

Harks Back

Harking back to the Dominican regime of assassinated strong man Rafael Trujillo, Johnson said

"Neither the United States, nor any nation, can want or permit a return to that brutal and oppressive despotism which earned the condemnation and punishment of this hemisphere and of all civilized humanity. We intend to carry on the struggle against tyranny no matter in what ideology it cloaks itself"

Johnson made no direct mention of communists, though officials believe they have been active in the rebel cause in Santo Domingo.

The number of U.S. forces in the country is unofficially estimated at more than 6,000 from announcements thus far of the totals involved.

Named to the peace-seeking mission that was to fly to Santa Domingo before dawn today were Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Guatemala and Panama.

U.S. officials said between 300 and 400 refugees were taken out of the country Saturday, bringing the total evacuated to about 3,300. This includes several hundred nationals of other countries

There are several hundred Americans in different parts of the republic, plus a number of citizens from other nations. Some of these are expected to be moved out today.

Fidel Says U.S. Role 'Criminal'

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro Saturday night called the United States' role in the Dominican Republic civil war "one of the most criminal and humiliating actions of this century"

The Cuban prime minister, addressing a huge May Day crowd in Havana's Revolutionary Square added:

"Not often can 'Out With Yankee Imperialism' be said with more indignation than on this occasion."

Castro, speaking in excited tones, ripped into the United States at the outset of his broadcast speech, monitored in Miami.

The speech climaxed a five-hour parade in Havana, which the Cuban radio said was watched by hundreds of thousands.

The radio said the crowd carried banners proclaiming:

"Santo Domingo fights against the invader, liberty or death." "We are with Vietnam and with all the countries that are victims of Yankee imperialism," "With the sugar harvest we will defeat the Yankees and help Vietnam," and "Ten million tons of sugar by 1970."

The sugar placards referred to an all-out effort by the Castro regime to come up with a large harvest of the dollar-producing crop vital to Cuban economy.

Major Viet Cong Offensive Indicated by Captured Arms

Saigon, Vietnam (AP)—Communist forces are packing in sophisticated weapons—from light artillery to flamethrowers—and seem to be building up for major offensives in South Vietnam to coincide with the start in mid-May of the monsoon season, U.S. and South Vietnamese military informants said Saturday.

They reported South Vietnamese troops are bracing for attacks all the way from the Mekong River Delta south of Saigon to the border of Communist North Vienam

The rainy season which runs until October or November, generally limits air activity and the movement of heavy armor on the ground.

Speculation on possible heavy Communist offensives came to light after South Vietnamese troops found a big cache of Red arms in coastal mangrove swamps about 60 miles south of Saigon. The weapons included precision, lightweight flamethrowers believed furnished by Communist China. There also were East German heavy machine guns, rifles, plastic explosives and tons of ammunition.

The informants said there is evidence the supplies for the Viet Cong guerrillas are being brought in by sea and through Cambodia and Communist-controlled sections of Laos

Year of Decision

Some senior military officers say there are signs that the Communist troops, reinforced by regulars from North Vietnam, may try to make 1965 the year of decision in South Vietnam

Chinese Communist-manufactured artillery and heavy antiaircraft guns have shown up in significant numbers in the northernmost areas, the central highlands and the Delta

A primary aim of the possible three to four offensives would be to destroy the South Vietnamese general reserve, one officer said. The reserve, mainly the airborne and Vietnamese marine brigades, have been used more and more to meet heavy enemy attacks and to try to regain lost ground.

If the general reserve is crippled, the Viet Cong could mass for attacks without worrying too much about meeting fresh southern troops.

The theory is that the chief Viet Cong attacks will come in Tay Ninh Province which is near the Cambodian frontier about 50 miles northwest of Saigon

The arms found in the Delta swamps, after a three-day operation that killed 152 Viet-Cong, apparently were destined for use in one of the Communist offensives, the military informants said.

"From this array of weapons it appears that the Viet Cong also may now have the services of North Vietnamese army artillery crews," an American officer said

This stuff is pretty sophisticated for the Viet Cong. The artillery particularly will be bad news for the armored personnel carriers and tanks."

Inland Sea

Military sources said the loss of the arms probably would not make any appreciable difference to the Viet Cong. The rains turn the Delta area into a virtual inland sea where heavily laden government troops and armor are slowed down drastically. The Viet Cong, who are trained to travel lighter and faster, have scored their most notable successes during the monsoon period

However, this season the Communists may be having their own personnel troubles. Senior military officers in the Delta and other areas believe that boys 16 years old and younger are being sent in to replace heavy casualties.

U.S. Air Force planes have been pounding suspected Viet Cong positions in the delta for the past few weeks. U.S. jets flew 49 such missions Saturday throughout the country

"We've lost the Viet Cong but they are still tough," an American said.

Captured Red Arms Highly Sophisticated

Saigon (UPI)—U.S. Marine and Air Force jets struck 55 times at Viet Cong positions inside South Vietnam Saturday as ground troops discovered that a mammoth captured Red arms supply depot contained some of the most sophisticated weapons ever taken from the Communist insurgents.

American air might was concentrated inside South Vietnam Saturday—May Day. A U.S. military spokesman said no raids had been launched against Communist North Vietnam by late Saturday. It was one of the longest lulls since daily air strikes began against the north April 13.

On the ground, government troops examining the largest Communist land cache ever uncovered here found it contained flame throwers, armor-piercing 70 mm. howitzer shells and 3.5 mm. Chinese rockets

The Communist supply depot was discovered in a Mekong delta mangrove swamp near the end of a government drive in which at least 152 Communist guerrillas were killed by troops of the South Vietnamese 7th Army Division

It contained hundreds of arms and ammunition boxes concealed in five camouflaged storage sheds beside a stream

Although Vietnamese and U.S. officers still were tallying the big haul, a preliminary report said it included

—Six lightweight flame throwers, believed to be of Chinese Red manufacture

—21 heavy machineguns of East German Communist design, equipped with anti-aircraft tripods

—98 Czech-designed submachine guns.

—210 American-made Springfield rifles.

—A ton of explosives and some 30,000 pounds of assorted ammunition

—33 anti-aircraft machine-gun mounts.

Communist Leaders Cite Actions in Vietnam, Dominica

London (AP) — Hundreds of thousands in Europe and Asia Saturday observed May Day—the labor day of the Socialists and as usual Communist governments used the occasion to assail the United States.

The customary parade through Moscow's Red Square took second place to a new Soviet diplomatic offensive against the United States — this time a demand for United nations action against U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic. It snowed during the May Day parade.

In Athens, 200 leftist workers attempting to march on the Greek Ministry of Labor with demands for higher wages clashed with police. Several were injured.

French workers observed the day quietly with a holiday from work and mass meetings of unions in some of the larger cities.

In West Berlin, 250,000 gathered to hear speeches from politicians and a special message from President Johnson. Police broke up a scuffle between labor union men and 50 Communist demonstrators, who carried signs saying "Peace in Vietnam" and "No Bombs on Vietnam."

In Vatican City, Pope Paul VI urged an audience of 40,000 Italian workers and tourists to "pray for and assist the unemployed, underemployed, underpaid and insecure. He criticized those who exploit labor social struggle and hatred.

In downtown Rome, speakers at a rally of the Communist-led General Federation of Labor denounced "barbarous acts of aggression" by the United States in Vietnam and Santo Domingo.

The New China News Agency said "an estimated 3,000,000 people celebrated May Day in the parks and squires of Peking demonstrating support for Vietnam's powerful and just struggle against U.S. aggression and acclaiming China's great socialist achievements."

Church Editor Killed by Shot From Rigged Car

Houston (UPI)—Mild-mannered Melvin L. Steakley, 37, the Houston Chronicle's editor of religion, slipped into his small foreign auto Saturday, pressed the clutch and was fatally shot by a gun rigged to the clutch pedal.

Steakley

The light-haired, balding Steakley, who carried heavy insurance but had no known enemies, staggered out of the auto, mortally wounded in the chest by a single shot. He fell dead 49 feet away.

Police started tests on the auto, the weapon and its crude mount to the steering column.

Peronists Get Warning

Buenos Aires (UPI)—President Arturo U. Illia warned the newly strengthened Peronist faction in Congress Saturday that the days of dictatorship in Argentina are gone forever.

"The time of disorder and fear have passed," he said, "and the abuse, the strict limitations, the arbitrary decisions and the despotism will never return.

"The moral crisis that once afflicted the country is now only a harsh memory of the past."

Illia issued his warning, without mentioning the name of former dictator Juan D. Peron or his Peronist followers, in his annual state-of-the-nation message before a joint session of congress.

The Peronists tripled their representation in the lower house of congress in the off-year elections last March and now hold 52 seats in the lower chamber. Illia's People's Radical Party has 69. Neither party approaches, however, the strength necessary for an absolute majority in the 192-seat chamber.

World War II Crumbles to End

By RELMAN MORIN, AP

The soldier sat on the river bank, looking at the water but not seeing it.

He had been cleaning his rifle and now it lay across his knees and he stared at the Mulde River, sparkling in the May sunshine. Someone had just yelled, and he never could remember who it was, "The war's over. The krauts have quit. This time it's official!"

This was when Pfc. Fenton Rowe of Bellflower, Calif., stopped cleaning his rifle. Some things are too big, too numbing, to take in right away.

After a long moment, Pfc. Fenton Rowe sank back, with his face to the sky, and murmured. "I made it, I made it, I made it."

For some, the official end of the war came as an anticlimax.

In Italy, the Germans had surrendered en masse five days earlier.

Tragedy and joy walked hand in hand in those last days of the war in Europe.

Many Germans, even ordinary foot soldiers, later said they recognized the hopelessness of the situation in the spring of 1945.

Thus, but for one man, the war in Europe might well have ended on or before April 1. He decreed that it must continue to the bitter end, which only came five weeks later.

This was Adolf Hitler's last crime.

On April 30, Hitler committed suicide, and the Nazi nightmare was ended.

On May 7, 1945 in Gen Eisenhower's forward headquarters at Rheims, France, the surrender was signed.

The Germans, Col.-Gen. Gustav Jodl and Adm. Hans Georg von Friedeburg, took seats at the table, opposite Allied officers.

"The mission of this Allied force was fulfilled at 0241, local time, May 7, 1945."

National Anti-Communist Party Eyed

Chicago (AP) — The Congress of Conservatives Saturday approved a declaration of its "intention to participate in the formation of a national anti-Communist party."

The three-day meeting also wound up with adoption of a program of action that, among other things, called for a liberation of Cuba.

Members of the Congress stood, clapped and cheered the reading of that plank and this elaboration of it: "We should capture Chinese and Russian Communists now based on Cuba and hold them as hostages pending release of Americans from Russia and Red China."

This had been designated as "new party day." The day didn't bring forth a new party but it did lay the groundwork for what the leaders here may become one in the future.

"We offer the people the skeleton of a national organization," Bard Logan, San Antonio, Tex., a member of the committee which drafted the approved document, told a reporter.

"It will be a reality only after they organize state parties," he said.

The Congress was sponsored by the Independent American, a political action monthly newspaper published by Kent Courtney.

Courtney, who served as chairman of the sessions, said 500 persons had registered.

The participants voted to set themselves up as an "advance committee" to "encourage the formation of new state parties, support existing independent parties, seek the achievement of a national committee and encourage the appearance of potential candidates for the new national party's nomination."

The declaration said "final terms of organization will be set by a new national convention." But no time or place was set.

Freight Load Shifts, Kills 3

Kansas City, Kan. (UPI)— A railroad official found the bodies of three men inside a gondola car in the Union Pacific freight yards here, crushed to death when a 50-ton load of aluminum ingots shifted.

A railroad clerk-inspector said the three had been pinned against a wall of the car.

They were identified tentatively by police as Joe Fred Swann, 36, of Powder Springs, Ga.; Robert Morris Flinn, about 35, no address determined, and Virgil Kenneth Larson, about 35, from the Stockton, Calif., area.

U.S. Plane Sets Mark

Washington (AP)—President Johnson said an American jet interceptor created by the designer of the U-2 spy plane has bettered world speed records set by the Soviet Union.

Johnson said the YF-12A aircraft formerly called the A-11, exceeded 2,000 miles per hour on a straight course and hit a speed of 1,688 miles an hour on a closed course — meaning a round trip flight from one point to another and back.

The plane's new world records on two flights were made by different crews at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

The old record for a straight course—1,665.8 miles an hour—was set July 7, 1962, by a Soviet E-166 jet. The same Soviet aircraft established the old closed-course record of 1,491.9 miles an hour on Oct. 7, 1961.

Johnson noted in a statement that the YF-12A was designed by vice president Kelly Johnson of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., the builder of the plane. It was Lockheed's Johnson who designed the U-2.

U.S. Missile-Launch Concern 'Unfounded'

Washington (AP)—The Defense Department's research chief believes this country doesn't need to worry about its missile-launching capability being paralyzed by electrical energy created in the bursting of enemy hydrogen warheads.

Dr. Harold Brown, director of defense research and engineering, gave this assurance to the House Armed Services Committee recently in secret testimony now made public.

Reps. William H. Bates, R-Mass., and Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., were among committee members who expressed concern over the idea that a surprise attack with Soviet thermonuclear weapons of up to 100 megaton force might prevent American counterattack.

Bates said there has been talk about "electromagnetic effects, neutron capability" on the U.S. weapons.

Brown replied that neutrons do not penetrate the atmosphere, meaning that they wouldn't reach the ground where the U.S. missiles stand ready for launching.

Ultra-Conservatives Meet

Conservatism, like its honorable opposite —liberalism—is a word which is taking a beating. Extremists have taken over the word giving it an ominous meaning to the great majority of Americans who like to consider themselves conservatives but who hug the middle of the road.

* * *

Just as "liberal" came to have a "pink" tinge to many, "conservative" now brings to mind John Birchism, Gen. Edwin Walker and others who have become almost psychopathic in their fears and distrust of such distinguished Americans as the late President Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and President Johnson.

* * *

Some of the ultra-conservatives are having a great time in Chicago at a Congress of Conservatives, planning a third political party. The Congress has two prominent martyrs —Gen. Walker who was relieved of his command for indoctrination of troops in Germany, and Lester Maddox who closed his Atlanta restaurant rather than integrate it.

Hero of the convention is Alabama Gov. George Wallace. Kent Courtney, New Orleans publisher of segregationist material and chairman of the Congress said, "Wallace is the man of the hour." He also said a third party would be free of representatives of "hate groups."

Third parties have met with little success in the United States, but there is sound reasoning behind this group's desire to found a party. They have been out of tune with the two major parties, a drag on both, uneffective and discounted.

It is time for them to sail under their own colors and for the major parties to be rid of their narrowing influence. Let these ultra-conservatives promote their policies under their own banner.

If their policies prove as unpopular, as it is expected they will be, then let the major parties take these dissenters back on their own terms. There is room in the United States for all shades of opinion and if the ultra-conservatives want to form a party they should be given every opportunity.

* * *

The people will still make the decision on what course the nation will take.

Computers Make Good Sleuths

It was a bad day when law enforcement officers got the use of a computer which normally evaluates income tax. On an idle day the officials fed it some gambling information from bettors, agents, police and other sources.

* * *

It evaluated such information as bookmakers' work sheets, the movements of bettors and bookmakers, geographical patterns of betting and the methods and amounts of payoffs.

* * *

Finally, the computer pointed its electronic finger at 86 alleged bookmakers. What's more, federal authorities said, the machine revealed the size of their yearly turnover as between $300 million and $400 million.

They say that if the information the computer handled had been processed by man alone, the three-year statute of limitations would have expired.

All this happened in New York City and the computer clicked off the names of 14,000 bettors in the metropolitan area. U.S. Attorney Joseph Hoey said all of the 86 men named as bookies had been arrested.

There is something eerie about computers. Yet if they can give law enforcement officers a hand when crime is on the rise they can perform a valuable service.

* * *

ROSCOE DRUMMOND'S Opinion

LBJ's Assembly Line

Washington—President Johnson is having things pretty much his own way at this session of Congress. The Senate and the House are working on almost assembly-line schedules to approve the programs for the Great Society. Nobody is looking very closely at the building blocks.

Drummond

One reason is that our two-party system has become a one-and-a-half party Congress, because so many GOP congressional candidates went down like dominoes last November under the impact of Sen. Goldwater's massive tumble.

The result is that, while Republican members of Congress can talk a little, resist a little, and suggest a modest alternative now and then, their voice on the Hill at the moment has all the command of a whisper in a whirlwind.

Naturally Johnson is harvesting all the legislative hay he can while the sun is shining. No one knows better than he does that it will not be shining indefinitely.

The President is in a hurry. The clue to his hurry is the recent report of the Committee for a Responsible Congress, which foresees a marked Republican upsurge especially in the make-up of Congress. It quoted a liberal lobbyist who warned that, if the Johnson administration does not make all its Great Society beginnings soon, it is likely to run into trouble before very long.

The anticipated trouble, from the President's standpoint, is a big Republican gain in the House of Representatives in 1966, a gain that could very well match, if not exceed, the losses last fall due to the way the Johnson landslide swept through the ranks of the GOP congressional candidates.

Thus Johnson inevitably has a hurry-up legislative incentive. He likes this Congress so much that he hopes it will do three times its normal work this year and next, so that any 1966 wave of Republican congressmen would have to be willing to tear down what LBJ has started. Under such circumstances he rightly figures that the most a more conservative Congress could do later in his term is just to slow things up a bit.

* * *

It remains to be seen whether the Johnson administration can continue to span the political prism from the ADA to the C. of C. I doubt if he can. His great legislative energy is a hedge against the future.

* * *

There is another problem he will face. At the moment there is just one mammoth political Johnson in seven-league boots bestriding the country. But in another year the national leaders of the Republican Party will be giving new force and focus to Republican doctrine. The team of Romney-Scranton-and-Nixon will be riding the GOP elephant in one direction — not in different directions.

In a year or two everything may not be coming up roses for LBJ.

WILLIAM S. WHITE'S Opinion

New Coalition on Capitol Hill

Washington — The old Southern Democratic-Republican Congressional coalition on domestic affairs is becoming only a memory. An incomparably more important and completely informal coalition in support of the vital world interests of the United States is rising up in its place.

White

Indeed, the most profound political reality of the first four months of the new Johnson Administration is the evolution of an unuttered pact of national union, on the stark issues of national honor and survival, between a liberal Democratic President and a big-minded conservative Republican congressional leadership. Joining, too, in this indispensable concert for the safety of this land is every significant Republican figure outside Congress—Dwight D. Eisenhower, Richard Nixon, Barry Goldwater, and all the rest.

The plain truth is that on these mortal issues every shade of responsible Republican opinion is as one on the bedrock necessity to uphold not a man named Johnson but rather a country called the United States of America in its terrible and thankless task of standing up all over the world against Communist aggression.

* * *

The equally plain truth is that on these mortal issues the majority Democrats, notably in the Senate, are divided and so are not pulling the full weight of their duty to the higher requirements of a nation.

* * *

The Democratic leader of the Senate, Mike Mansfield of Montana, is a good generally able and decent man. So is the chief foreign policy spokesman in the Senate, William Fullbright of Arkansas. All the same, they are hampering rather than supporting this government in its all-national policy to resist Communist aggression in South Vietnam. And it is not, in this context, Johnson's government, it is also Dwight Eisenhower's government it is also John Kennedy's government.

Other and lesser Democratic figures, some of them ultra-liberals of pacifist bent and some merely the inheritors of a tendency to a sour isolationism in the Mountain West, are adding to the din.

But the Republican leader of the Senate, Everett Dirksen of Illinois, and the Republican leader of the House, Gerald Ford of Michigan, are giving to this policy a wholehearted support without which it would now be in the gravest trouble.

* * *

In all this scene, the present posture of the Republican Party, the present strong sense of duty and responsibility within the Republican Party, lays a debt upon every American who is not blinded by petty partisanship or bemused by pedantic hair-splitting.

The Power of Faith

By Woodi Ishmael

The parents of William Wordsworth, one of England's greatest poets, planned for him to be a minister. Yet, through his poems Wordsworth has served God and man better than had he taken the other course. His love of people and understanding of their needs is expressed throughout his works.

The way is dark, my Father! Cloud on cloud
Is gathering thickly o'er my head, and loud
The thunders roar above me. See I stand
Like one bewildered! Father, take my hand
And through the gloom
Lead safely home
Thy child! . . .

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

Man's inhumanity to man is often frightening, but there is a vast reservoir of man's humanity to man.

* * *

Man's Humanity

This is found in all areas of the world where people suffer privation, disaster, sickness and disease.

A barn a day has become the byword of scores of Amish and Mennonite volunteers who streamed into northern Indiana to aid victims of Palm Sunday tornadoes.

One Mennonite summed up the reasons a man leaves his own work for hard manual labor on the property of someone he has never seen.

"The main concern is not that a man has lost his house, or personal belongings but what is happening to the person . . . It is hoped that this tangible act will help restore hope and courage and especially confidence in God."

* * *

Two years ago a California doctor went to Baja California, Mexico, for some deep sea fishing. There he found an appalling number of blind. The Stanford Medical school ophthalmologist set aside his tackle and performed operations for catracts and other disorders.

He has made six visits to the community and performed more than 100 operations. For hundreds of villagers he prescribed glasses—all donated by a California optical company

There was no charge to the impoverished families but the villagers collected some money and had a medal made. "Con Gratitude, Dr. Winter," the inscription reads.

* * *

In one of the schools in Washington, D.C., there is a school principal who finds it necessary to spend as much time in social work as in educational administration.

The closet in her office is stocked with bags of clothing, soup, crackers and other food. While nearly a fifth of the school participates in the needy lunch program, many do without breakfast.

A mother who was evicted has her furniture stored in the school basement. A second-hand washing machine donated by the Junior League gets heavy use from mothers who all are free to use it.

This principal says, "We've got to satisfy physical needs before we can feed their brains."

The Washington Post says, "The unusual commitment Mrs. Marguerite Selden has made to welfare services in her school contrasts sharply with the view of traditional educators who go by the book.

"But Mrs. Selden is on the side of those who argue that the responsibility of educators toward children does not end at the schoolhouse door."

* * *

The military has a phrase for such dedicated service—"above and beyond the call of duty." Or, as the people of Baja California said, "Con Gratitude."

Nebraska's Fourth Estate

The proposed state operational budget request of $192 million has opened the way for comment from several Nebraska newspapers.

The Scottsbluff Star-Herald writes "A taxing rate 4 to 5 mills greater than during the current biennium appears to be eminently possible by the time the legislators complete consideration of state spending needs . . . the big problem is not so much the size of the budget as how to finance it."

Studying the relationship of the budget to educational spending, the Grand Island Independent writes, "Because enrolments are increasing, the public just cannot expect the Unicameral to hold the line on spending for higher education."

The Fremont Tribune says "A look at facts and predictions which the budget must match if the University is to meet its responsibilities brings the $47.6 million (the amount the University would receive over a six-year period from a capital construction budget) figure into proper perspective."

The York Daily News-Times is confident that things are far from being settled as far as the budget is concerned and "some of the biggest firecrackers to go off in the State House are sure to be heard from during floor discussion of the bill."

The Nebraska City News-Press writes that "no matter what individual senators think of the budget they must admit that the committee headed by Sen. Richard Marvel, Hastings, did a good job."

Dissenting Opinion

The Falls City Journal disagrees with a statement made recently by William Galbraith, chairman of the Nebraska Centennial Commission, that the centennial program "is a program for all Nebraskans."

The Journal writes that most Nebraskans "don't give a hang about it" and would rather spend their tax money on more personal things.

"As far as the state's official observance of the centennial . . . all that's needed is a proclamation by the governor . . and then, let the people celebrate in whatever fashion suits them . . .," the paper concludes.

Daylight Saving Time

Commenting on the recent controversy over a possible daylight savings program for the state, the Alliance Daily Times-Herald writes, "Nebraska has a law against DST, which is silly even if you are a standard time standard bearer."

The Dawson County Herald also writes that daylight saving time and spring "are inseparable and Nebraska may very well become the last outpost, or one of the last to stick to regular time."

The Herald predicts that although "Nebraska, with the help of its Legislature, still remains firmly in the no daylight savings time camp . . . the time is coming when there'll be some changes made.

If

Lincoln—J. L. Larrison is so right (Letters to Editor, April 25). You should "obtain a weapon best suited to the individual to insure personal protection."

Should you be assaulted and the culprits are finally picked up, the police with tongue in cheek will ask if you wish to prefer charges, knowing the county attorney's office will do as they please.

Read the Daily Record. Note how many assault and battery cases are dismissed at the request of the county attorney's office. They are too busy playing it safe and banning books.

"Never Again" (Letters to Editor, April 18) has a point also. Why are the injured treated as though they are the criminals?

NO JUSTICE

Guidelines

Steinauer—Now that state senators have placed the fate of LB382 in the hands of the voters, I propose these guidelines:

From the first century Christ Jesus reminded us, "My little children, love one another."

From the 18th century Thomas Jefferson challenged us, "I have sworn upon the altar of God, eternal hostility against any form of tyranny over the mind of man."

LB382 says: "That transportation services may be provided for children attending any elementary or secondary school meeting the minimum standards of the compulsory attendance laws of the state of Nebraska." It is a proposal to amend the Nebraska state constitution.

Personal Views Of The News

A concise but penetrating analysis of the problems facing this nation was presented to the Foundation For American Agriculture recently by Herbert V. Prochnow, president of the First National Bank of Chicago. Mr. Prochnow has been an influential member at times of our national government, a keen observer of the world scene and a writer of wide scope.

* * *

Internationally, the problem he sees might best be illustrated in the following words taken from his remarks before the Foundation: "In world affairs, there has been increasing evidence that some of the major powers of the Western World believe that the time is here for the extension of longer term credit to Soviet Russia and Communist China. At the same time, we emphasize the importance of maintaining powerful overseas defense and a strong NATO to protect the Western World from possible communist aggression. Are we caught in the crossfire of conflicting objectives?

* * *

"Is the time approaching when this nation, as the leading world power, needs to resolve the apparent inconsistency between spending billions to maintain powerful overseas defense at the same time that it seeks to follow a policy of peaceful co-existence with expanding trade, possibly by longer term credits, with the communist system? Is this question being resolved in Western Europe by accepting peaceful co-existence, decreasing defense costs, and expanding trade with longer and longer credit terms to the communist nations? As we critically analyze the problems of Southeast Asia, the Congo and other areas of the world, are we certain that the communist system has given up the idea of destroying the nations of the Free World?"

Please keep in mind the fact that Mr. Prochnow is not advocating anything. He is merely trying to point out the awesome nature of the complex situation that faces this nation in the years ahead.

* * *

His above words take on more meaning in light of certain statistics. "The underdeveloped nations," he notes, "include almost all the countries of Africa, Asia, most of Latin America and a few in Europe, or about two billion persons. These people have annual incomes of less than $150 per person . . . Life expectancy . . . is about one-half that in our country. It is estimated that 20 million houses would have to be built each year for 30 years to take care of housing needs in the underdeveloped nations."

* * *

In the area of housing, this would be about one-third of the total U.S. number, to be constructed annually. The two billion people living in the above described conditions of poverty and ill health compare to 193 million Americans.

The problem is that the world can never be at peace so long as there are people in such large numbers with such adversity to overcome. These two billion people cannot and will not "be contained" in the sense we refer to in common foreign policy terminology.

* * *

Nor is it realistic to think that this nation can, by itself, completely bail out the downtrodden economies of these underdeveloped countries. Thus, there seems to be an unreality and a built-in conflict to much of the policy currently pursued by this nation. One wonders if we have applied to our foreign affairs the intellectual enthusiasm with which we approach so many other things.

Half Minute Inspiration

Be a good sport! Take your losses as well as your gains in good spirit. Remember that every time you win, someone else may take a loss. You always respect a good loser, so try to be a good loser yourself. One way to do this, is to help some one else who is losing some battle to win out in a right and fine way. "As you do it unto others," Jesus said, "you do it unto me." You like to be happy, so spend some time and effort to give happiness to others.

Poll Tax Showdown Sought

Washington (UPI)—Senate liberals are expected to swing into line behind the young man's call but first will press for a showdown vote on banning all poll taxes.

That was the private forecast from the liberal camp in advance of a scheduled Monday morning meeting called to canvass their views on the leadership substitute.

The new bill drops an outright prohibition of state and local poll taxes and instead orders the attorney general to bring suit to test the constitutionality of such taxes in the courts. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said this should bring a Supreme Court ruling after this year's voting in advance of the 1966 elections.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who has led the fight for the poll tax ban, joined other liberals in reserving judgment. He said there is "no substitute for a congressional finding that this Congress, in the year 1965, feels that the poll tax has a discriminatory effect."

The Story Behind The Headlines!

SOUTH VIET NAM IN COLOR

ENDLESS CIRCLE ?

A FABULOUS GUIDED TOUR IN PERSON WITH
Recent On-the-scene Observations by:
KENNETH S. ARMSTRONG

From coup to coup, ambush to ambush, crisis to crisis, a seemingly endless circle. Kenneth S. Armstrong sheds light on a colorful and vital area in crisis. During his three extensive assignments he spent many months in every corner of South Viet Nam. He has been up to the front lines in helicopters roaring over the death-filled rice paddies. He has met the Vietnamese people in cities and hamlets; interviewed their leaders; faced the crossbows of the primitive Montagnards; and experienced Communist gunfire. He brings the story behind the headlines. Only through deeper knowledge of the people, their history, religion and customs can one understand the events in this chaotic region. No other American lecturer has covered South Viet Nam so thoroughly. An authoritative, up-to-the-minute report.

Fight to Boost Experiment Station Budget Pledged By State Senators

By DICK HERMAN

A handful of Nebraska state senators, who say they have more support than their numbers indicate, next week plan to vigorously contest Budget Committee recommendations regarding University of Nebraska Experiment stations.

"I think it's terrible," declared Sen. Lester Harsh of Bartley

"Very, very unfair," said Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, chairman of the Legislature's Agriculture and Recreation Committee.

"We talk about bringing industry to Nebraska," added Lincoln Sen. John A. Knight. "It seems to me the Budget Committee is trying to kill the one major industry we've already got, agriculture."

The trio of lawmakers are protesting the committee's recommendation the Experiment stations be allowed an all-funds budget increase of under 2%

Where the stations' 1963-65 budget is calculated at $7,101 136 and the Board of Regents requested $8,429 003 for this essentially non-instructional activity, the committee's recommendation halted at $7.230,374

That's $129 238 more than was and is available for the current biennium

But it's $1,198,629 less than the Regents sought and even $911,626 under what Gov. Frank Morrison outlined in his executive budget.

If nothing else, Budget Committee members earned an "A" for bravery, other senators admitted

The Experiment station part of the University budget is considered the entire document's most politically sensitive zone. When pet projects are cut out, howls from wounded senatorial parties are prolonged and piercing.

The Budget Committee's narrative summary of issues and explanations distributed to senators Friday contains this statement about the Experiment stations:

"The committee, on reflection and review of the nature and purpose of the Experiment station program, concludes that there is almost literally no limit to the appropriations which might be made to the program.

"For a good many years, the Legislature has made little or no inquiry into the use of funds under the program, leaving to the University decisions as to the application of funds

"Moreover, the Legislature has not indicated its wishes as to new undertakings by the Experiment station staff, with the result that the program has been largely dictated by the staff's own preferences and specialties."

After reviewing past spending patterns and project closeouts by the Experiment stations, the committee concluded "approximately 14% of all current projects should be terminated each year."

Accordingly, the committee figures the project closeouts should free money for other

Budgeteers See 28% Of Projects Ending

Over the next two years, the Legislature's Budget Committee anticipates 28% of all current Experiment Station projects should wind up and free cash for new projects.

Accordingly, the committee reduced the stations' total biennial program budget—except for salary increases—by 14%.

The other half of the so-called "freed" cash, an estimated $912,916, would underwrite 32 research projects proposed to the committee by the NU College of Agriculture.

Economics of transportation of agricultural products in the mid west

Economic impact of farm cooperative enterprise

Improving efficiency in irrigation

Kramer Cites 'Serious Error'

A serious technical error exists in the Budget Committee's computations for the University of Nebraska's Agricultural Experiment Stations, according to Dr. Herbert H. Kramer, director of the stations.

Kramer said only a $146,000 increase from the state general fund has been recommended for approval although 19 of 24 proposed projects have been okayed.

He said if the general fund figure is approved there will be no financing for the new projects costing $750,000 and that there will also be a shortage of about $185,000 to meet salary increases which were also recommended by the Budget Committee.

Jaycees Elect New Officers

Voters To Polls Tuesday

City-County Registration Is 64,140

By LEO SCHERER

Lincoln and Lancaster County voters will decide races for the City Council, Lincoln Airport Authority and Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday's general election.

Six persons are seeking the three open Council seats while four are trying for two Board of Education openings

Four are seeking the two-4-year full term Airport Authority seats while two are after the one short-term position of one year

Polls are open Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. The election commissioner's office said 64,140 persons in Lincoln and Lancaster County are eligible to vote.

There will be no city-county building issue on the ballot, since voters already have approved two bond issues totaling $5 million for a proposed city-county building at 10th and J.

Upsets Possible

Upsets could occur in each of the three races, since some incumbents were given a tight race in the April primary

Council incumbent Edward Becker finished slightly ahead of Carroll Thompson in the primary and John Lux ran ahead of appointed-incumbent Edward Copple in the School Board race in the same primary.

"We are hopeful at least 25,000 voters will go to the polls in Tuesday's general election," said Miss B. J. Holcomb, city-county election commissioner. "The right to vote by secret ballot sets Americans apart from other nations and we feel it is extremely important that every registered voter cast his ballot in the general election."

Miss Holcomb noted that the city set an all-time high for a city primary in April, when 26,806 city voters and 3,034 rural voters went to the polls

The last city general election was May 7, 1963, and 22,000 of the city's then 59,211 registered voters went to the polls

No Controversy

However, the lack of controversial issues is expected to hurt chances Tuesday for a large turnout

In Tuesday's primary, voters will be asked to vote for two for the School Board, three for the City Council, two for the full-term Airport Autority and one for the short-term Airport Authority.

In order to vote Tuesday, the election commissioner's office said, a voter must be registered andd have resided in Lincoln by April 23, 1965.

If Hospital Stays, Updating Needed

Teague Says Immediate Start Should Be Made on Modernizing

By BESS JENKINS

Modernization should be started immediately if the Lincoln Veterans Hospital is kept open after June 1, said Congressman Olin Teague after inspecting the hospital Saturday.

Teague, D-Tex., is chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee. He and other members of the President's special committee investigating the 11 VA hospitals marked for June closing, didn't miss much in their full morning inspection here

Veterans hospitals in operation, Teague said, must be modernized and upgraded constantly.

"They become obsolete only if this is not done," he added.

Although Teague unhesitatingly said the Lincoln hospital is "a good one," there was no hint what members will recommend to President Johnson by mid-May. They indicated they expect their recommendations will be followed by the President.

Not All Eleven

General sentiment today is that not all 11 hospitals slated for axing in June will be closed.

Rep. Ross Adair of Indiana, leading Republican member on the House Veterans Affairs Committee, was among the group visiting Lincoln.

Teague, Adair and former Veterans Administrator James Gleason, commented freely as they toured hospital areas

Apparent to them were entry and departure areas modernized in 1961 as Phase I of a total program. Phase II was called off the next year.

Here are some comments:

Teague—"Yes sir, you need some modernization down here" (the lower level physical-occupation therapy and research areas)

Gleason—"This is one of the best places in any hospital to tell if it is a good one Here is where you learn more sometimes than out in the wards" (the lower level autopsy room, included in Phase I).

Adair—"This is a fine area, pleasant and adequate (the patient-medical lower level library)

Teague—"How long have you had this?" (the year-old modernized x-ray department and equipment).

Dr. Dana Atchley of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City and others were close-mouthed about their conference with staff doctors and community physicians

Teague said the committee knows from records that Lincoln has provided the best and most in medical services among the 11 hospitals to be closed

On the red side, he said, is the bed-veteran ratio with three VA hospitals in the state. It exceeds the national ratio.

He said the committee will check this week to see if its responsibility includes consideration of transferring the Grand Island VA Hospital to the state and keeping the Lincoln operation alive.

This is Nebraska Rep. Clair Callan's proposal if the committee recommends the bed-patient ratio be reduced.

Fire Hazards Noted In Capitol Building

By DEL SNODGRASS

Nebraska's architectural masterpiece, its towering state capitol, will never come tumbling to the earth because of a disastrous fire

Hewn from stone, steel and marble, the famous edifice probably is as fire resistant a structure as man can build.

But the same design which sets the building apart from structures of lesser beauty contributes to certain fire hazards

The steel and marble may not burn, but desk, books and supplies will. The tower which stretches 400 feet into the sky provides a natural vent for deadly smoke and fumes from blazes on lower floors.

Questions about the building's fire safety—and particularly the safety of those employes who work in tower offices—were raised as the result of two fires in the capitol this year.

Although both blazes broke out on the lower floors the potential exists for fires in the 15-floor tower as well

The possibilities of injury or death have increased over the years as the building has become overcrowded and hallways and other nooks and crannies have been converted into "temporary" offices.

Building Supt. Robert Newell believes it would be unlikely anyone would be trapped in the tower even though the four small elevators can handle only a handful of people at one time

The building's 1,350 employes, he said, evacuated the building in 7½ minutes during the last civil defense test when all employes above the third floor used the elevators.

Lincoln Fire Chief Roscoe Benton said the city has no jurisdiction or authority to make inspections of the capitol since the structure and grounds are state property.

"But the statehouse is a problem," Benton said

Willa Cather Program Set

The board of governors of the Memorial will meet Friday evening.

Bauer Income Tax Facing Kill Motion

Indefinite Postponement Already Asked on LB797

The first thing Sen Hal W Bauer's proposed state personal and corporate income tax bill must contend with when it finally comes up for general file debate in the Nebraska Legislature is a motion for indefinite postponement

A check of legislative clerk records disclosed Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter already has filed a kill motion against the income tax measure, LB797

To Bauer, principal sponsor of LB797, will fall the burden of fighting off the indefinite postponement attempts—and, if they succeed, in trying to lead the bill through to passage.

Carpenter is not a particular enemy of the income tax concept

He has his own income tax LB141, still pending in the Revenue Committee

But the western Nebraska lawmaker has made it clear he can't buy Bauer's bill in its present form.

LB797 would apply a flat rate tax against net income of individuals and corporations. Businesses would be able to take off all their expenses of operation, but individuals would be allowed relatively modest exemptions and no deductions.

LB141, too, calls for a flat rate. However, it would take a percentage of what a person or corporation pays in federal income taxes.

To that extent, LB141 is a much more graduated income tax proposal than LB797. Carpenter's bill automatically incorporates all the progressivity of the federal income tax system.

Omaha Sen. George Syas has a pair of kill motions filed also, against bills now stuck in the back of the general file pack.

One is Carpenter's LB5, the other is Sen. Dale Payne's LB436.

LB5 would make it illegal for a merchant to sell any item under 6% of its basic cost.

LB436 is the bill requiring the vote of any non-Douglas County area which the city of Omaha seeks to annex.

Finally, a motion to kill is still pending whenever the Legislature resumes consideration of LB826, Sen. Fern Orme's bill granting the University of Nebraska enlarged revenue bond issuing power.

Sen. Richard Proud of Omaha has poised the parliamentary knife against LB826.

Sertoma Club To Be Told of Hearing Project

Lincoln Sertoma Club's annual hearing and speech luncheon Thursday in the Lincoln Hotel will feature a speaker who has done something here for young victims with this handicap.

He is Dr. Robert Stepp, who heads the audio-visual instruction division for the University of Nebraska Extension Service.

Through a U.S. Office of Education grant, Dr. Stepp has devised a television-like viewer used by students in the school system's hard of hearing class at Prescott School.

Lincoln Sertoma Club adopted the Deafness Research Foundation several years ago as a local project. It now is Sertoma's nationally.

Pershing Bust

Pershing Ceremony Friday

Dedication ceremonies will be held in the rotunda of the Capitol building at 3 p.m. Friday for the Gen. John J. Pershing bust in the Nebraska Hall of Fame. General Pershing is the third individual to be elected to the Hall.

Participating in the dedication ceremony will be Gov. Frank Morrison, State Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme and representatives of various military organizations Speaker Kenneth L Bowen of the Legislature will be master of ceremonies.

Baker now in his 84th year has works throughout Europe and the United States. He is best known for his colossal bronze "Pioneer Woman" in Oklahoma. His most recent achievements include a large head of Sir Winston Churchill and a nine-foot bronze statue of the late President John F. Kennedy erected at McKeesport, Penn.

Funds for the purchase of the Pershing bust were made available by the Governor's Inaugural Ball Committee, the Military Order of the World Wars, and other public donations. Mrs. Eleanor Anderson of Lincoln is the chairman of the Hall of Fame Commission.

projects—projects which the committee has indicated it wishes undertaken.

Other than these so-called "replacement" projects, the committee said its appropriation would provide for two new enterprises:

—$100,000 for establishment of a "High Plains Agricultural Research Center" on presently federally-owned land at the Sioux Army Depot, near Sidney.

—$20,000 for sugar beet research.

The University, at its budget hearing, said a research station at Sidney was important, but not on its list of requested items for 1965-67. The new Sidney Experiment station was pushed by Sen. George Fleming of Sidney, a Budget Committee member.

Sens. Kremer, Knight and Harsh conferred Friday with NU officials about the Budget Committee's Experiment stations recommendations.

Kremer pledged "I'll sure try to do something on the floor" to improve the appropriation picture. The same promise came from the other two.

Allowing that he is regarded as fiscally conservative in many sectors, Harsh said "I'm not going to be economy-minded on agriculture. All we have in Nebraska is agriculture and people. We simply must protect our agriculture and, through experimentation, keep up to date."

Kearney Poet Prizewinner

Vera G. Bates of Kearney Saturday won the Nebraska Federation of Chaparral Poets first prize for the best poem submitted in a statewide contest.

In a separate contest, members were asked to answer roll call with a short verse

Members voted Winnefred Nelson's roll call poem best. Others who placed were Clarissa Reynolds of Kearney, second; Leila Bliss of Elm Creek, third; and Mabel Kendrick of Whitney, honorable mention.

Armed Forces Day Here Features Action, Exhibits

Want to see a laser beam knife through metal? Look at a missile up close? Watch combat paratroopers jump or a Marine unit attack fortified positions? Or maybe just look at planes? They will all be at Lincoln Air Force Base Saturday for the annual Armed Forces Day.

Hoisington

Lt. Col. Herman Schultz, sub-sector commander of the U.S. Army Reserve in Lincoln and project officer for Armed Forces Day, said all of the service activities that day will be held at LAFB from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Armed Forces Day will be officially inaugurated Friday evening at a meeting of the Air Force Association, where Maj. Gen. Perry M. Hoisington II will be guest of honor.

Gen. Hoisington, now director of legislative liaison for the Secretary of the Air Force, was formerly commander of the 818th Air Division that is stationed at LAFB.

Schultz said the base gates at the entrances from O St. and Highways 34 and 80 will be open at 9 a.m. Saturday to the public and parking will be available.

He said the day's events are divided into two major groupings, displays and demonstrations in the morning and the air show at 3 p.m.

Displays, to be in a hangar, include: a Nike-Hercules missile; NASA exhibit; Army research and development program; and recruiting material from the different service branches.

Planes, such as the B57, F100, F102, F84, F105, some Navy aircraft and a Vulcan wing-type jet from the Royal Air Force, will be on display on the runway.

Schultz said the laser beam cutting metal will be displayed periodically throughout the day. Other demonstrations include 12 Marines from the local Reserve unit attacking fortified positions; Army Pathfinder paratroopers sky diving and jumping into combat territory plus judo, and sentry and dog demonstrations

Two ROTC teams from Omaha high schools, a boys and a girls', will also maneuver.

Highlights of the air show include the "Flying Professor," Dick Schram of Glenview, Ill., performing acrobatics in a J-3; and Bill Fannof of Shreveport, La., performing stunts in a F88 Bearcat and Pol rigiter.

Other planes in the flyover are B47, F100, F102 and T38 trainers.

STATEHOUSE LETTER

State Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr. of Norfolk returned from the Easter recess wearing protective thin white gloves on his hands. Dr. Brauer, a physician, explained his hands have suffered from a skin rash for several years as the result of scrubbing for surgery. Brauer hoped the rash would clear up while away from his practice, but thinks now the ink on the legislative bills he handles every day is causing the same reaction.

Wage Law Minority

Nebraska sides with the minority of the states on the question of a state minimum wage law. Thirty-six other states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico have minimum wage laws. Nebraska legislators defeated two such bills in the present session. Of Nebraska's neighbors, only Iowa and Missouri have no such law.

Law Books Safe

English lawbooks which state Supreme Court Clerk George Turner says are irreplacable escaped damage in last week's minor fire in the state law library at the capitol. Turner said many English libraries lost the books during the World War II bombings and would be delighted to retrieve the volumes in the Nebraska statehouse.

Relations Strained

A University of Nebraska Young Republican news release concerning state AFL-CIO President Richard Nisley's speech before the group probably contained the understatement of the year.

"The AFL-CIO," the release said, "has not been friendly to the Republican cause for some time, and at least part of Nisley's talk will center around the strained nature of that relationship."

Argumentative Questions

Nebraska lawmakers become irritated when speakers at public hearings on bills become repetitious or overly lengthy. But some senators themselves drag out the hearings with the questions they ask the speakers. Frequently, the questions asked are argumentative rather than designed to seek information.

Del Snodgrass

Lexington Woman to GOP Post

Mrs. Mary Stewart of Lexington has been appointed secretary of the state Republican party executive committee, state GOP Chairman Walter Witthoff of Fremont announced.

She will succeed Sarah Jane Cunningham of McCook, who resigned.

Mrs. Stewart, who attended national GOP conventions in 1960 and 1964, has been active in Dawson County Young Republicans activities since 1957.

Local Indian Program Slated

Miss Zora Tennant, a retired Lincoln teacher, will discuss American Indians in Lincoln at a Jane Jefferson Democratic Women's Club meeting Thursday.

Miss Tennant co-founded with policewoman Mrs. Hulda Roper at the Belmont Community Center a program for Lincoln Indians.

The club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Federal Savings and Loan Bldg.

Big Increase

Battered Child Doctors' Topic

Lincoln attorney Richard Hansen will speak at the 10th annual surgery and trauma day course Monday and Tuesday on the University of Nebraska College of Medicine campus in Omaha.

Hansen, with Drs. Robert W. Gillespie and Kenneth Browne, will discuss the battered child problem.

Wisconsin Visit

Dr. Denzil Clegg, superintendent of the University of Nebraska Northeast Experiment Station at Concord, will address agricultural students at the University of Wisconsin this weekend.

Poppy Day Thursday

The American Legion Auxiliary will distribute over 500,000 poppies made by disabled Nebraska veterans Thursday.

Donations received for the flowers will go into the Auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare fund, which is the principal source of support for the work of the unit for disabled veterans and children of veterans.

Mrs. Morell DoRan, president of the auxiliary unit, said most of the money received during Poppy Day would be spent in Lincoln.

Disabled veterans were paid 12c per flower and were the only ones paid for their work. Making the poppies is considered beneficial as occupational therapy, giving the patients something constructive to do to help pass hospital hours.

Humane Society Has Pets—Kindness, Too

Lincoln's Humane Society can provide you with plenty of ways to be kind to your pet—and if you haven't got a pet, frequently they can provide you with that too.

Currently yapping out their loneliness in the society's cages are any number of pups picked up as strays and given to the society by persons not wanting them.

These little tail-wagging bundles are available to anyone willing to pay from $5-$10, the price of a license and the necessary vaccinations required by law.

Take the case of Max, the Dachshund puppy. He prowls his little cage daily waiting for his human to come find him.

If a dog isn't to your liking, the society shelter at 2320 Park Blvd. has a few kittens available for adoption too.

Not only does the society promote kindness to animals but it takes a hand in furthering human welfare too, says Mrs. Phyllis Haight society president.

Besides investigating cases of animal cruelty and neglect, the society attempts to keep an eye on stray animals and those who bite.

Bernard Patton society superintendent, said that when someone is bitten the animal must be impounded with the Humane Society or a licensed veterinarian for a ten-day period to watch for rabies. Any symptoms of the deadly — and incurable —disease will appear within that period, he said.

Although there are many bites in Lincoln annually, Patton said the danger of rabies is practically nonexistant. In the past five years, he noted, the city has had only one reported instance of the disease.

Reason for the welcome shortage is the fact that stray and sick animals, main carriers of rabies, are rounded up as soon as they are spotted.

Patton said that while rabies poses little problem here, any animal bite can be dangerous. To prevent being bitten Patton said people should:

—Not approach stray dogs, ever.

—Avoid any strange or vicious dog without running away. Running entices the animal to give chase.

—Look for a dog when going on someone's property.

Humane Society Has Animal Kindness Law

Although the Humane Society requests that you treat your dog, cat or other pet with kindness, city ordinances go a step further and require it.

Dogs

If you own a dog within Lincoln city limits, it.
—must be licensed.
—must be innoculated for rabies.
—must not be allowed to run at large.
—must be on a leash when off the owner's property.
—must be placed under observation for ten days if it bites someone.
—may not be allowed to howl or bark if neighbors are disturbed.
—may not be poisoned, maliciously injured or maimed. May not be deliberately killed in any but a "humane manner."
—may not be allowed to destroy property (the owner may have to pay the bill)

Cats

If your pet is a cat, it
—must be licensed
—may be allowed to run loose, most of time, if licensed.
—may be impounded for 10-days if it bites someone.

Hearings Set on 5 Bills

Only five bills, three of them late arrivers, are scheduled for public hearing before standing committees of the Legislature during the coming week.

For practical purposes, committees accomplished their objective of completing bill hearings by May 1, and lawmakers Monday will be able to begin holding day long floor sessions.

The few bills awaiting hearing have been bunched for consideration Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

A count Saturday showed 274 bills still in the hands of committees, awaiting hearing or action.

Final disposition has been made of 470 of the 895 bills introduced, or some 52%.

Bills passed total 245, and bills killed, failed or withdrawn total 225.

Time Out Planned By Board

Education Leaders Play

By DICK HERMAN

More than flowers bloom in May.

That's when the State Board of Education takes to field (golf) and stream (placid ones.)

It's been a tradition, ever since Hamilton Mitten of Fremont has been on the Board, that the May meeting be held in Mitten's home town.

In a rather narrow basement room below Mitten's savings and loan office, the

Of Schools & Scholars

Board and departmental administrators hustle through all business by noon.

Then comes a quick dutch treat in a neighboring cafe, and off to outdoor sport.

Since Frank Landis and Commissioner Floyd Miller recently took part in a physical fitness program, much is expected of them on the golf course next month.

Bill Echoes

Echoes keep bouncing about over the Legislature's 45-3 approval of the constitutional amendment proposal allowing parochial school youngsters to ride public school buses.

One senator who voted for the measure, LB382, later observed the bill could have been killed, had the Education Committee been more politically sagacious.

This senator's post-mortem:

What the committee should have done was sit on the bill for three weeks, maybe a month. Then, on a very close vote, it should have reported out the measure.

By killing LB382 only minutes after the bill's emotional public hearing, the Education Committee is seen as contributing to the resolve of the proponents. And away they went.

While the ultimate fate of the bill was as near a cinch as anything in the current session after its overwhelming support on general file, reserve ammunition of a sort was called up.

The report in the Legislature last week is that all children attending Catholic schools in the Omaha Archdiocese were asked to say a prayer for LB382 when its destiny was being decided in Lincoln.

Great Outdoors

President Johnson this month handed out an award to Richard E. Klinck of Wheat Ridge, Colo., as the 1965 National Teacher of the Year.

And who wouldn't like to be in this sixth-grade teacher's class?

Once a week Klinck takes his class to an outdoor classroom in the Rocky Mountains.

"The walls of our classroom fall away and become instead Ponderosa pine. During that week we become thoroughly imbued with the world about us. If I teach about glaciers, there I stand on a ridge looking at one or looking at the evidence of one, and what's more marvelous than to teach that way?"

What, indeed.

A number of school systems with large outdoor laboratory programs include Battle Creek and Pontiac, Mich.; Long Beach, Los Angeles and San Diego in California and Frederick and Washington Counties, Maryland.

Omaha is currently looking at a comparable possibility.

Danes Meet

Danish Brotherhood Lodge 84 celebrated their 70th anniversary this week with a dinner and dance. Axel Skellecek of Omaha, national secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood, was guest speaker.

River Projects Extended

Omaha (AP) — Army Engineers have recommended extending the existing Missouri River bank stabilization and navigation project upstream from Sioux City to Gavins Point Dam.

Estimated cost would be $57.78 million.

The Engineers said the improvement would be aimed at controlling "existing serious bank erosion" and providing a nine-foot channel.

Meanwhile bids were opened on two Missouri River bank stabilization projects.

Cunningham Kiewit Co., Omaha, gave the apparent low bid of $755,756 for work on the Winnebago-Blackbird bends near Sloan, Ia.

Missouri River Contractors, Inc., Dallas, Tex., gave the apparent low bid of $819,337 for similar work on the Blackbird Council bends near Blair.

Mrs. Belknap . . . willing volunteer.

Church Library Grows From Meager Start

Nearly six years ago a few new shelves and a handful of books was the library at St. Paul Methodist Church.

Today the library includes more than 1,700 well-classified books, has a weekly circulation of about 100, an annual budget of $500 and the full support of the congregation.

Behind this success stands a woman—Mrs. Clinton Belknap of 2919 Harwood, a volunteer librarian for six years.

"It all came," Mrs. Belknap said, "after a remark I made one day at a meeting of our Women's Society of Christian Service.

"Wouldn't you think a church the size of this would have a decent library?" I demanded.

The president smiled at me in her sweet way and said, 'Wouldn't you like to represent the Women's Society on the library committee that has just been formed?'

How could I refuse?"

Mrs. Belknap is a firm advocate of a library in every church.

Two groups benefitting are church school teachers "coming to the library for additional material for their classes" and the Women's Society.

For congregations founding libraries, Mrs. Belknap suggested formation of a "reliable committee."

The committee, she added, "should be small, yet represent as many of the important church groups as possible."

Its functions should include appointing the librarian, finding a location for the library, obtain funds, set library policies, consider the librarian's regular report, approve or reject book recommendations and aid publicity tasks.

Sisters Source Of Dynamism

South Ben, Ind. (AP) — Orders of Catholic sisters "are the most untapped source of dynamism in American society," says the Rev. William McNamara, director of the Spiritual Life Institute of America.

He said the woman's orders make up a vast resource of competence and ability, but because of lack of direction, "their impact on society has been meager."

Church Women Eye Poverty in Lincoln

Lincoln United Church Women will study poverty at a May Fellowship Day program Friday.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. at the Lincoln State Hospital.

New officers will be installed at 10:30 a.m., followed by a discussion of the theme by Dr. Edwin A. Coates, acting superintendent.

At 1 p.m. Joe Wallace of the Public Health Service now doing an environmental health study here, will discuss "People Poverty Plenty in Lincoln."

Exiled Bishop Here Tonight

Bishop Ralph E. Dodge, Methodist bishop in exile of the Rhodesian Area, will speak this week in nine Nebraska cities, including Lincoln tonight.

Dodge

Bishop Dodge, originally from Terrill, Iowa, is in the United States to attend the annual meeting of the Methodist Board of Missions and the spring meeting of the Methodist Council of Bishops.

Before being elected a bishop, Dodge served 14 years as a missionary in Angola and seven years as the executive secretary for Africa of the Board of Missions. He is the author of the recently-published book, "The Unpopular Missionary."

Bishop Dodge and other churchmen have tried to help break the deadlock between a white minority government and the African majority over the present Rhodesian constitution. As a result he was expelled from Rhodesia.

Mass demonstrations protested his expulsion in July 1964. Since then, Bishop and Mrs. Dodge have lived in Zambia from where he administers the work of the church in Rhodesia.

Bishop's Dodge's appearances in Nebraska Methodist Churches will be: include one at Hastings this morning and another at Trinity Methodist Church, 16th and A in Lincoln at 7:30 tonight.

Others are: Monday, York; Tuesday, McCook; Wednesday, North Platte; Thursday, Scottsbluff; Friday, Norfolk, and next Sunday, Nebraska City in the morning and Hanscom Park, Omaha, in the evening.

House of The Week: Cape Cod Really a Ranch

By Associated Press

The quaint [illegible] Cod has endured [illegible] years.

Some [illegible] design have [illegible] this style of house [illegible] last decade. The [illegible] remained basically the same since any radical [illegible] in its outward appearance would destroy the traditional appeal.

The latest House of the Week seems to be a typical Cape Cod. A covered portico with graceful arches, small dormers, red cedar shingles and low open fences are among the visible features which give it that look.

But it's not a Cape Cod at all. On the inside it's actually a ranch house! Here's how this distinctive arrangement came about.

Architect William B. Caldwell was told by a husband and wife that they wanted to buy a Cape Cod house but soon discovered that they couldn't find one with all the rooms on the first floor.

They wanted at least three and preferably four bedrooms with a laundry area that could be entered from the side or rear.

Their plight sparked Chirgotis into the creation of Design H-81 a house with a ranch interior and a Cape Cod exterior.

Instead of a second floor this house has a low attic of the kind that can be utilized for storage if necessary. In that event one of those disappearing stairways could be easily located in the bedroom [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible]

An attic would be optional because the [illegible] call for a basement.

A two-car underground garage is located next to the basement and would be entered either from the side or the rear of the house depending on the size of the lot and personal preference.

All the conveniences of modern ranch design are included in a well laid-out floor plan. Entering beneath the covered portico into a large foyer one moves straight ahead to the living room to the left and the four-bedroom wing or to the right and the kitchen. This distributes traffic effectively.

Garden Gossip

Geraniums Will Grow With Minimum Care

By EMERY W. NELSON
County Extension Agent

Geraniums are a popular plant for planters and for bedding. They grow with a minimum of care in the out-of-doors and bloom abundantly when given their simple requirements.

Geraniums which are grown in flower boxes or planters should be provided with good drainage. This condition is obtained by using coarse sand or gravel in the bottom of the box or planter and providing an opening for excess water to drain out.

The soil for growing geraniums should be easily crumbled and of moderate fertility. Strong fertilizers or highly fertile soil will cause the plants to grow luxurious foliage and little bloom. Most plants have sufficient fertility when they come from the nursery for the first heavy bloom. Then light applications of mixed fertilizers can be used to encourage future blossoms.

Too much water will also cause excessive foliage to grow and may encourage diseases to attack the plants. On the other hand, geraniums should never be allowed to wilt. The frequency of watering will need to be judged carefully for the location of the planting. Hot locations may need water every two or three days. Cool locations will need water every seven to 10 days in the summer.

Your Nurseryman Speaks

Moisture Has Spelled Disaster for Nurseries

On April 14 frost was still in the ground. On April 22 the temperature reached 87 degrees.

For nurserymen this spring hasn't been a season, it has been a disaster. And the real irony is that the moisture which has made this the best spring in years for plants has also made it the hardest year in the memory of living men to move these plants.

In one local nursery, while it was too wet in one low field to dig plants, it was also too dry in a higher field to get balls of earth on evergreens.

Mount Arbor Nurseries at Shenendoah, Ia., one of the largest and most mechanized in the nation, has parked their machinery and resorted to mules working up to their tummies in mud.

In Illinois and Ohio, some nurseries have yet to move their first plant.

What does this mean to the person who is trying to plant trees and shrubs this spring?

First, be patient. Since his livelihood depends on getting you your plants you can be assured that your nurseryman is doing everything possible to serve you as quickly as he can.

We have had terrible weather on the weekends. If your nurseryman suggests delivery of plants during the week, cooperate as well as you can with him. We may not have a decent weekend during which they can be planted.

Since he is guaranteeing these plants, you can be certain that no local nurseryman is going to sell you plants unless he thinks they have a good chance of growing.

In fact, this nurseryman must in truth say that he is proud of his colleagues and competitors. They are reacting to this time of maximum stress with honest and, in most cases, good humor.

One northern Kansas nurseryman said.

"I've lost everything I've worked for during the last 10 years. So what? At least I've got my wife and children left. Some of the people in the floods and tornadoes to the east of us are a lot worse off than I am."

Of course, all this means that some orders will not be completed this spring. Please be philosophical. Remember in the nursery business, as in the baseball business, next season is always going to be a better season.

And if you get irritated with your nurseryman, please remember the mules at Mount Abor Nurseries. At least you're not up to your tummy in mud with someone standing behind you with a whip.

Aging Pair Generous Hospital Fund Backers

In the million dollars plus already pledged toward Lincoln's United Hospital Campaign goal of $1.75 million is a $27,000 contribution from a couple who offered it before the campaign even began.

The gift is in the form of 500 shares of stock, worth $27,000 now, in one of the Midwest's largest companies.

No fanfare of recognition was sought by this couple well into the golden years. Their first overture for the gift in fact came to general hospital campaign chairman Robert Crosby from the couple's attorney.

"I didn't even know then who the donors were," said Crosby.

Sought out now, the wife told a simple story.

"We have lived here most of our life. My husband is a native of Lincoln.

"For a long time we have wanted to do something for the community that has been good to us. This seemed one way of showing our gratitude. It will live on for years.

"We could do it. Our wants are not nearly what they used to be. Our careful start years ago made the gift possible today."

The feminine half of this giving partnership still remembers earlier years when the couple had children to raise and educate, and there were other demands on their then smaller income.

She believes families today in this same money-tight posi-

With Steel Strike Averted, Chance of Further Upturn in Economy Is Greater

New York (UPI) — Business and government breathed easier during the week when a steel strike was averted.

Extension of the strike deadline four months beyond May 1 meant a new lease on life for the four-year-old-plus economic upturn.

There had been fears that a work stoppage in the vital steel industry would shake up the economy.

The United Steel Workers Union and the major steel-producing companies agreed on the extension just two days before the deadline.

The producers swapped a pay raise of 11½c an hour for more time to negotiate a new contract.

The extension will give the union time to settle its controversial presidential election, which held up negotiations for two months last winter.

USW President David J. McDonald said the 11½c is only the price the industry must pay for a strike delay and that the union still expects to win at least 17.9c an hour.

In agreeing to the 11½c, which will go into an escrow fund for wage or benefit improvements, the industry budged from its previously announced stand not to go beyond a raise of 2% in labor costs.

The union wants a 3.2% boost plus 3.9c for a cost-of-living increase.

Steelworkers now average $4.40 an hour in wages and fringe benefits.

Commenting on the agreement, federal mediator William E. Simkin, who played a big part in sealing it, said: "This is a good day for the economy."

McDonald, Simkin and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the industry, expressed optimism that final agreement can be reached in the four months ahead.

The temporary agreement came during a week in which steel companies were announcing that their first-quarter profits were the highest in several years.

Steelmakers operated at capacity during the period to meet not only heavy demand for current use but for stockpiling as a hedge against a strike.

U.S. Steel, the No. 1 producer, for example earned $73,772,849, or $1.25 a share, up 43% from $51,546,002, or 84c a share, in the 1964 first quarter.

Steel production during the week set a record of 2,806,000 tons, up .8% from 2,785,000 the previous week.

Many steel users said they don't plan any immediate cuts in their steel buying because of strong demand from their customers and the possibility of a strike next fall.

It was a great week for earnings reports in the automobile industry as well as for steel companies.

General Motors Corp. announced first-quarter profits of $636,383,603, or $2.22 a share, up 19% from $536,331,704, or $1.87 a share, a year earlier, were the highest by any corporation for a three-month period.

Ford Motor Co. also topped all previous quarters with earnings of $200,800,000, or $1.81 a share, a gain of 39% over $144.3 million, or $1.30 a share, in the 1964 first quarter.

Automobile production maintained its swift pace with an estimated 205,400 passenger cars being turned out for the week. This was down 1.1% from 207,801 the previous week but up 14.6% from 179,237 a year ago.

The six millionth car of the 1965 model year rolled off an assembly line during the week. The industry target for the model year which ends in mid-August is 8.8 million cars.

Sales continued at a high level with dealers delivering 254,878 domestic made cars in the middle 10 days of April.

Securities Are Cautious

New York (UPI) — An air of caution seemed to hang over the stock market last week but market indicators managed to score a modest gain through a series of halting advances.

The absence of any rallly significant selling pressure combined with the selective upthrust in blue chips and some secondary shares led analysts to believe investors were still swayed by the uncertainty of the Vietnam situation.

Carrier Meet Here

Lincoln will host a meeting of the Middlewest Shipper-Motor Carrier Conference May 11-12. The conference is made up of industrial traffic managers and motor carrier executives from 15 states.

Illes

Speaker at the May 12 general luncheon will be Joseph Illes, director of transportation for Outboard Marine Corp. of Waukegan, Ill. Illes directs the world-wide distribution of products, including those of Outboard Marine's Cushman Motor Works in Lincoln.

The first day will be spent in committee assembly sessions.

Local arrangements chairman is John DuPont, manager of the transportation department of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce. Lincolnites working in or with motor carrier transportation may participate in all conference sessions, he said. Over 100 members of the conference are expected to attend it.

This will be the conference's 42nd regular meeting but is the first time one has been held in Lincoln. Presiding will be the 1965 president of the conference, Victor L. Emery, transportation commissioner of the St. Joseph (Mo.) Chamber of Commerce.

Gains Told By WL&T

Western Light and Telephone Co. of Great Bend, Kan. which may merge with Western Power and Gas Co., of Lincoln, reports the Kansas firm's earnings per share of common stock increased from $2.37 in 1963 to $2.56 in 1964.

Gross revenues for 1964 increased 10.5% over 1963 and net income available for dividends increased 8.05% over the same period. Effective August 1, 1964, the common stock quarterly dividend rate was hiked from 35c to 40c a share.

A Federal Power Commission examiner, H. W. Frazee, recently ruled in favor of the proposed merger. The new firm would be known as Western Power and Gas Co. Inc.

Factors Put Zip in Fat Cattle Market

Omaha (UPI)—Fat cattle supplies increased here last week but demand was pretty good and the majority of the cattle were reasonably clean.

These plus other factors coupled with signs of improved health in the dressed beef trade, put some zip in a market that started slow but gained strength as it went along.

The livestock supply here and at the 11 other markets was heavier than the previous week and lighter than a year ago all across the board.

Fed steers and heifers were strong to 50 higher, with most of the advance holding as the plainer cattle reflected the lion's share of the improvement.

The steer top was 26.75, paid for 1,345 pounders with a couple of sales at 26.35 and 26.50.

The average price of slaughter steers at Omaha figured 23.71 against 23.90 the previous week and 19.61 a year ago.

Cows were mostly 50 lower, instances 75 off; canners and cutters 11.50-13.50, a few to 13.75.

Replacement cattle and calves numbered 4,500 head at Omaha and represented the largest run since late last fall. Trading was active and prices were fully 50 higher.

Butcher hogs and sows ended the week steady to 25 higher; barrows and gilts weighing 190-300 sold from 17.25-18.75, a few sales 19.85-19. Sows weighing 310-600 cleared at 15.16.75 Week's high on sows 17.

Old crop slaughter lambs closed 25-75 higher, quality and clean pelts contributing most to the advance.

New Oil Field Seen as Possible

Sidney—With four producing wells and the report of 1,990 feet of oil recovered in a drill stem test about two miles northwest of Potter, it seems development of an important oil field northwest of Potter may be in the making.

Petroleum Inc. also has another location to drill near Potter which would bring the number of wells to six.

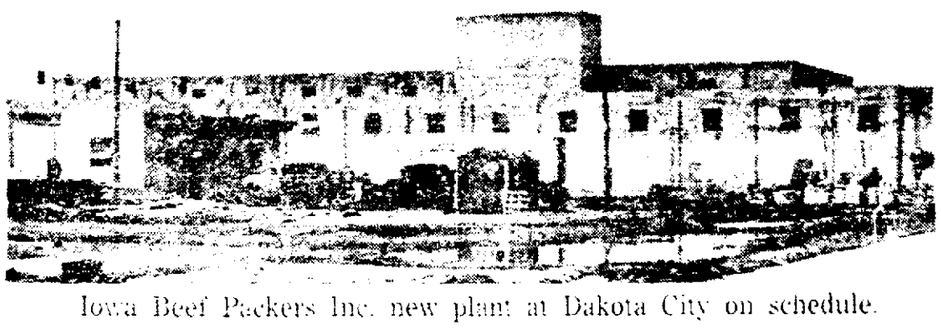
Iowa Beef Jockeys for Industry Position

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor



Iowa Beef Packers Inc. new plant at Dakota City on schedule.

Dakota City — A significant move for position among the giants in the meat-packing industry will take place here this fall when Iowa Beef Packers Inc., begin operations in a new plant just north of this northeast Nebraska village of less than 1,000 population. The fully automated plant will use revolutionary ideas for handling beef and its production will also move Iowa Beef Packers Inc., to the rank of the country's third largest meat-packing firm. The company started from scratch in 1961.

While this is the firm's first Nebraska plant (three others are in Iowa) it will have the same characteristics that are credited for earning the company more than $5 million before taxes and bonuses in 1964.

One-time butchershop owner Andy D. Anderson of Denison, Iowa, now president of Iowa Beef, constructs his plants to his own specifications.

He builds one-story affairs designed to take advantage of a production line. The company sells only on the wholesale market, mostly to supermarkets that want to label their own meat, and to other packers. Last year the company didn't spend a penny on advertising or promotion.

The plant under construction here will have a capacity of 1,600 beeves daily.

"There won't be a job in the plant a country boy won't be able to do after two weeks training," said a construction superintendent in illustrating the company's system of taking years of skill out of every step.

Some new ideas on beef packing are going to be introduced to this plant. Traditionally, it has been a practice in the packing business to quarter beef and merchandise it. This plant will skip the middleman who formerly cut up the quarters. The plant will ship the carcass out in 44 pieces.

"This will open new markets, and give markets abroad," company spokesmen say.

The three plants now in operation finished the last current year on a two-shift basis, 16 hours a day. The company's annual report claimed a 70% return on the money common shareowners had invested at the beginning of the year.

Tax-exempt industrial development revenue bonds were issued and sold by Dakota County to construct the plant to Iowa Beef design and specification.

The plant will be leased to IBP on a lease-purchase contract.

PUBLIC SERVICE WESTERN POWER & GAS CO

Western Power & Gas Company

May, 1965

Dear Westgas Customers:

Many of you are already enjoying the advantages of a Gas Air Conditioner. Many more are familiar with its superior qualities, but occasionally we visit with a customer who does not realize that his home can be air conditioned with Natural Gas. Perhaps we have not told the story often enough or well enough. If so, we would like to visit with you about Gas Air Conditioners, how they differ from others and the reasons why they are the finest comfort conditioners available today.

From the very beginning, Gas Air Conditioners have been built to a standard of quality and not to a price. The best materials and expert craftsmanship go into every conditioner. Each unit is subjected to exhaustive tests before its release from the factory. Because of its unique design Gas Air Conditioners have very few moving parts. This means few parts to wear out and cause breakdowns as is so often the case with compressor type units. Gas Air Conditioners maintain high level cooling efficiency during prolonged hot weather, while cooling efficiency drops in other units at a time when air conditioning is needed the most. Many of the Natural Gas Conditioners installed in the 1940's are still operating efficiently today. And of course, since then many major improvements and technical advances have been made in the field of Gas Air Conditioning which means today's Gas unit is superior to its predecessor. Compared to the average life of other units, this means an extremely long life-span.

Today more and more commercial and industrial establishments are air conditioning with Natural Gas for the above reasons and because much less maintenance and service is required for peak efficient performance. All of these advantages apply in your home as well. If service is required, The Gas Company's trained servicemen are always available. This prompt guaranteed service is too often lacking with other units.

If you are considering central air conditioning this year, learn about all the advantages of Gas Air Conditioning before you buy. Air Conditioning with Natural Gas will be one of the wisest investments in total dollars and total comfort you will ever make.

Very truly yours,

The Gas Company

SUNDAY JOURNAL AND STAR STAFF COLORPHOTO BY BOB GORHAM

Tom Schwenke, University of Nebraska Innocent from Denton, and Mortar Board Nancy Holmquist from Oakland practice "spooking" on Jan Marie Binger, NU freshman from Lincoln. Parents of the three are Messrs. and Mmes. Emmett Schwenke of Denton, C. W. Holmquist of Oakland and George R. Binger of Lincoln.

Ivy Day, a University of Nebraska tradition that dates back to 1889, will have a new look Saturday.

Festivities will take place on the lawn between the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Architectural Hall, just north of the intersection of 11th and R Streets. In recent years the program has been held just north of Ferguson Hall.

The program will be moved up to 10 a.m. starting with a concert by the University Band and concluding by mid-afternoon with the tapping of Mortar Boards and tackling of Innocents.

Senior Societies

Both the Innocents, senior men's honorary, and Mortar Boards, senior women's honorary, joined the Ivy Day program in 1905. Members of the Black Masque Society, now Mortar Board, first masked their new members in 1906.

Both societies have developed a tradition of "spooking" juniors whom they might be considering for membership.

Both groups remain rather discreet in their deliberations during the days prior to Ivy Day, but the "spooking" becomes a matter of vital interest during the traditional program.

Robed Members

Members of Innocents in their colorful long red robes and Mortar Boards in black and gold attire roam the grounds in search of likely members.

In typical feminine fashion, Mortar Boards tap their new members, but Innocents make dashing plunges for their choices.

In fact, they often receive instruction from the football coaching staff on ideal tackling techniques. Each Innocent assumes the responsibility for tackling his successor.

Other Ivy Day activities include coronation of the May Queen, men's and women's sings, presentation of scholarship and activity awards, and, of course, planting the ivy by the presidents of Innocents and Mortar Board.

Elliott Will Emcee

Master of ceremonies at the 1965 Ivy Day will be Dr. Curtis M. Elliott, Regents professor of economics and insurance.

Lorraine Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Morris of Wayne, will be Ivy Day soloist. A senior in music, she sang the lead in the 1965 opera "La

The 'Pigskin' All New to Brazilian

Expressing great pleasure at the friendliness of the American people Carlos Kopittke, American Field Service student from Brazil can be sure that he has many friends at Lincoln Northeast High School

Carlos feels that it is part of his job to promote good relations beween the United States and Brazil and tell us about the life of the Brazilian

Entering Northeast at the beginning of the school year Carlos was immediately impressed with the friendly students and teachers, great school spirit and the game of football

In Brazil, he plays soccer and had not known about the "pigskin." Immediately adapting to the life of the American teen-ager, Carlos enjoys Keen-Time, school dances, drive-in movies and restaurants . . and especially the girls

He is fascinated by the high standard of living, big stores and the expensive cars At Northeast Carlos plays flute in the orchestra and has participated in the all-school and drama class plays.

City of 750,000

In Brazil, the Kopittkes reside in the city of Porto Alegre It lies in the southern part of Brazil on the banks of a river. Porto Alegre, one and one-half hours from the Atlantic Ocean, has a population of 750,000.

Mr Kopittke is a professor of science at the University of Rio Grande do Sul, a state university He has studied at the University of Berlin in Germany Mrs Kopittke leads the life of the everyday housewife

Carlos has a 21-year-old brother, Uwe, who will be graduated from the university in engineering, and a sister, Irmgard, who is 14. The family speaks German

Carlos goes to school under the French school system in which there are no electives and 15 to 20 courses the student must take The school day lasts from 7 a m to noon, and from 2 p m to 4, with school in session on Saturday

Limited Activities

There are not many school activities but Carlos finds time to play soccer and basketball He also likes to fish and hunt Often his activity is curtailed by the temperature It may get as low as 32 degrees and as high as 115 degrees

In Lincoln, Carlos stays with the Dr. James Looker family. Dr. Looker is professor of organic chemistry at the University of Nebraska. Carlos has a "brother," Dan, a senior at Northeast, and a "sister," Ronni Sue, who is in the ninth grade at Robin Mickle Junior High School.

High on Carlos' list of ambitions is a return visit to the United States

Male Modes: Advantage of Good Grooming May Include Higher Wage

We came across a straightforward and convincing statement the other day from Eric Crabtree, chairman of Hardy Amies, the London couturier who does clothes for the Queen and also does considerable designing of men's apparel. Mr. Crabtree had these succinct words to say about the advantages of proper grooming: "Good clothes reflect a better mind . . .raise a man to a higher earning-bracket . . . add to his self-respect . . . improve his community status . . . and even assist his sex appeal." (Well-said — Mr. Crabtree!)

Trends: This one was observed in Paris, and hasn't reached here yet. Some of the better French men's shops are displaying and selling "chemises noire" (black shirts). Some of our well-known movie stars have been wearing them and they might catch on again, as they did in the '20s. . . Smart dresssers at Yale, Harvard, Princeton and University of Virginia are again buying pink shirts — and this could easily lead to a big trend, nationally, such as was experienced some years ago, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Dress Tips: Do not depend on the original adjustment of a pair of suspenders to keep your trousers hanging correctly. Suspenders — and belts — often stretch and need re-adjustment . . . Packing Tip: It's a problem, when packing, to keep hair brushes from getting crushed, cosmetics from being broken, etc. Roll a shirt cardboard into a tube large enough to hold the items, and your problem is solved.

Odd Items: Credit Where Due — No man in the public eye has done more for hat-wearing than golfer Sam Snead. He blazed the way for the wearing of colorful straws on the golf courses . . . Aesthetic Robber — In Newport, Ky. a thief stole 150 pairs of slacks — mostly pinks and other pastel shades! . . . New — There's a men's summer pajama that has a bare midriff! It's cool, but gives shoulder protection from drafts .

Dress-Idea — For a smart sportswear ensemble — wear a navy blue blazer over a powder blue turtleneck shirt or sweater . . . In The Stores — New patterns in the very practical nine-color breast pocket handkerchiefs. Just fold and tuck to reveal the shade to blend with what you're wearing . . .

Contract Dependent Upon Key Dummy Play

By HOWARD SCHENKEN AND RICHARD L. FREY

South would not have made his venturesome contract on this deal unless he had played the right card from dummy at the very first trick Can you figure out what that card was?

South was somewhat averse to jump-raising diamonds on such spindly support, and he jumped to three hearts instead That bid cannot be fully endorsed because partner is entitled to expect it to guarantee more high-card strength It is probably better to support partner's diamonds, intending to rebid hearts later if given a chance

However, South made no mistakes in the play. When West opened the club queen, declarer knew that unless the diamond queen was singleton or doubleton, he was in trouble

Vul: Both

♡ Q 8 4
◊ A K 8 6
♣ K 10 4

♣ A 8 7 3

SOUTH (D)
♠ K 8
♡ A K J 10 9 5
◊ J 5 3 2
♣ 6

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	2 ◊	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 ◊	Pass	6 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead: Club queen

If it were doubleton, there would be no problems, for there would be only a club loser, if the diamond queen were singleton, the other defender would be in position to guard the fourth round of diamonds, and South would have a potential diamond loser as well as a club.

The most likely way to overcome this was by a squeeze but it would be vital yet to find out which opponent he should nominate for that rule, but by playing low from dummy on the club lead he was able to stay in position to compel either East or West to guard clubs

Since a club continuation would set up a club trick in dummy West shifted to a spade which was won on the table and after drawing trumps, declarer led the diamond ace

When West's queen fell, it was evident that the diamonds were held by East and a squeeze would operate since he was also marked with the club ace. Declarer ran off all his trumps, keeping three diamonds in his own hand, while dummy held the diamond king-eight and the club king East had to succumb to pressure

Note that had declarer covered the club opening lead with dummy's king the squeeze would not have worked, for clubs and diamonds would have been guarded by different defenders. Had the cards been placed differently, so that West held the long diamonds declarer would have rectified the position by leading the club king from dummy ruffing away East's ace and leaving West as the sole guardian of both minor suits, so that again the squeeze would have operated

It is open from 1-4 p.m. each Sunday, according to Miss Marjorie Johnston, Altrusa senior citizen chairman.

Belmont Open House

Belmont Community Center will have an open house each Thursday during the month. The events begin at 2:30 p.m. and are open to all golden agers who wish to attend. Programs and refreshments are slated.

Southwest Community Center has invited the senior citizens to a tea and special interest program at the Center from 1:30-3:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 18. Included in the activities will be pinochle and rug-making.

A new Good Time Club will open on Friday, May 21, at 1 p.m. at First-Plymouth Congregational Church, 20th and D. There are six other Good Time Clubs going strong in Lincoln. Their afternoon meetings are at Bethany Christian Church, Monday; Salvation Army Center, Tuesday; YMCA, Wednesday; St. Paul Methodist Church, Thursday; Havelock Fire Station, Friday, and the Drop in Center, YWCA, Sunday.

Programs vary from card playing to tours, square and round dancing to crafts, table games to birthday parties, says Mrs. Doris Pierce of the City Recreation Department.

No Dues

"All golden agers are invited to attend any or all meetings. They may select any club and will be welcomed by the hostess. There are no dues," explained Mrs. Pierce.

Dean Ziettlow of the Cooper Foundation reminds senior citizens that they may become members of the Foundation's Golden Age Club. Proof of age will entitle a member to a card which allows him to attend certain programs as well as movies at reduced prices.

On Wednesday, May 19, the 7 p.m. program on KUON-TV, will be a National Educational Television show with a special report to senior citizens.

Those organizing the recognition of senior citizens in Lincoln have contacted churches urging them to set aside one Sunday as a special day for recognition of their senior members.

Other Groups

Capital City Newcomers: Bridge and pinochle, 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, Kings Party Room, 40th and South. Newcomers wishing to attend may call Mrs. Carl Forbes for reservations.

LINCOLN DIARY

Sunday: Time is of the essence— or isn't it? NU Coed Shirlee Schneider checked in at the flight desk at Kansas City municipal terminal the required 20 minutes before the 5 55 p m flight to Lincoln today

"I'm sorry, Miss," said the attendant. "Your flight left at 4:55 p.m. It's on daylight savings time!"

NU instructors frown on absence from class the day after a vacation, so the young lady was fortunate there was a later flight to Lincoln which she could take

Nor was she the only one who was caught by the change in time Sunday. Several other Lincoln-bound travelers joined her as "those who missed the plane"

Durable Dress

Monday: Those dresses of yesteryear were durable.

Mrs. Lillian Seltun tells us that her 8-month-old granddaughter, Darcy Porter, wore the same dress to church Easter Sunday as Mrs. Seltun did 46 years ago.

Darcy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Porter.

Tuesday: Sports department had fielded a call from Dave Schaefer who said that he had been dealt the perfect bridge hand. Witnesses to this were Frank DeBrown, Sam Simon, Joe Wright and Ken Kimmel, he said. The hand:

Ace, king, queen, 10, 9, 8, 5, of hearts and ace, king, queen, jack, 10, 4 of clubs.

The final contract was seven hearts bid and made.

We are sorry to disillusion the caller but Paul Galter, an American Contract Bridge life master — highest rank attainable in tourney play, points out this is NOT the perfect hand. One of the biggest flaws is that if all hands were freak ones, such as this is, and right hand opponent were void in clubs and left hand opponent led one, the first trick might be lost by a trump.

Many Lincoln bridge players will be in Omaha this coming weekend attending the annual tournament at Hotel Paxton.

Thursday: One Lincoln mother was reminiscing about her youngsters (now grown) and told this story:

"When the boys were little the twins in the second grade and their small brother in kindergarten, this happened

"I had invited a couple over for bridge one evening and had made three dozen cookies, as well as some muffins. The boys came in from school and headed straight for a snack in the kitchen. I told them they could each have a cookie—and some muffins. I was busy and didn't pay any attention to their activities.

Later that evening, when we had finished our bridge, I went to serve cookies and coffee—and not even a cookie crumb was left.

The next morning I questioned the boys and the twins each admitted having a couple

Eddie hung his head and came to this decision after having consumed 32 cookies

"Well—they weren't berry good!"

Friday: A clipping from the Milwaukee Journal tells us that Lincoln University club chef Michael McCarthy attended a special two-week period in Fond du Lac, Wis., brushing up on his cooking knowledge and learning new iedas.

Instructor was Madame John Kuony, who in the French tradition "cooking with your hat on" wore hers when demonstrating methods.

Mme. Kuony is a director of the Postillion Culinary Arts School and a recognized French restaurateur.

Making plans to entertain their husbands at the annual spring banquet of the Unicameral Women's Club are, from left, Mmes. J. W. Burbach of Crofton, president, and Dale Payne of Papillion and George Fleming of Sidney, co-chairman The banquet will be 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Cornhusker Hotel.

SHOULD BOLD LAD HAVE RUN?

Louisville (AP)—Jockey Bill Shoemaker, who isn't known for being too lucky in the Kentucky Derby, said he had all of it Saturday as he rode Lucky Debonair to victory.

He also said that heavily favored Bold Lad was the least of his worries among the other three-year-old colts.

"Bold Lad hadn't proved himself and I just didn't think he would get there."

Bill Hartack, who was going for his fifth Kentucky Derby victory, added mystery to the moment: "Bold Lad had a reason not to run. I think I know what it is, but that's not for publication right now.

"I was a little bothered about him warming up. He wasn't the same as the other day.

"He wasn't running right and he wasn't reacting very good. He tried real hard to run but he just wasn't going any place."

Shoemaker said this was just about the luckiest he's ever been in a big race. "We got our first break when Flag Raiser didn't get out of the gate very good.

"This meant we didn't have to catch him like we thought we would.

"We got into perfect position just out of the first turn and didn't have any trouble at all from there to the finish line.

"When I sat down on him at the eighth pole, and he opened up a two-length lead, I was pretty confident that we had it won. I had a lot of horse left then, although he was all out to win it."

Ismael Valenzuela, who rode second place Dapper Dan, was quite upset about the trouble he encountered on the first turn, when he was bumped by someone—no one seemed to know who—and fell back to last place. He was running fourth at the time.

"I don't know, but this may have cost me the race. We lost an awful lot of ground there and I used up a lot of horse getting it back."

Valenzuela said he also lost the popper off his whip at the eighth pole and couldn't sting Dapper Dan, who was beaten by a neck, as he normally would have.

This victory was especially sweet to Shoemaker, who had been beaten on heavily favored mounts in 1963 and 1964 and who stood up on Gallant Man before the finish and was beaten in 1957.

Valenzuela declared, "They almost stopped me cold in that first turn. I don't know who did it, but I was cut off. I know Dapper Dan could run, but he's temperamental and he was knocked off stride."

Ronny Turcotte had no excuses for third-place Tom Rolfe. "He just didn't have it," he said.

Manuel Yeaza said Hail to All, who was the second choice in the betting, had absolutely no excuse and was a very tired horse with one-sixteenth of a mile to go.

"I asked him to go and he wouldn't make a move. I was within a half-length of Native Charger, but he just refused to go after him as we got near the finish."

Palmer Leading At Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Arnold Palmer played it safe and sound Saturday, shooting a one-under-par 71 and posting a 54-hole score of 206 to lead his fellow golfers by three strokes or more in the $75,000 Tournament of Champions.

Palmer toured the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course in 35-36-71, but it was young Dick Sikes who provided the sensation of a hot windy afternoon when he shot a 30 on the back nine to equal a tournament record and move into contention.

Art Wall Jr. set the record of 30 in 1964.

The 25-year-old Sikes, who is sponsored by Art Model, the owner of the Cleveland Browns football team, snapped out of a 38 on the first nine holes and proceeded to knock out six birdies on the final nine for a 68.

It put Sikes four strokes behind Palmer as the cast of stars go into the final round Sunday.

Sandwiched in between were Chi Chi Rodriguez and Doug Sanders, each of whom had to be satisfied with par 72 and a score of 209.

Palmer actually gained one stroke over Rodriguez and Sanders, who trailed by only two strokes when play began Saturday.

Bill Casper Jr., also had a 72 and rested alone at 211, while Nicklaus, improving with each round after a disastrous initial 74 Thursday, came in with a 67 for 212.

"I just played better, that's all there is to it," said Nicklaus, summing up his round.

Nicklaus has won the tournament the past two years and can still make a run for a third victory Sunday, although trailing by six strokes.

Comedian George Knudson, Chuck Courtney, Rod Funseth and Miller Barber, each with a 72, and Bruce Crampton, another Australian, with a 76, were tied at 215.

Scrimmage Offers New Questions for Devaney

By CURT MOSHER

The sun worshippers who baked their skulls in Memorial Stadium Saturday and walked out two hours later wondering whether the Nebraska football team had uncovered depth or discovered weaknesses had an expert mumbling with them.

This same question had the leader, himself, pondering the situation a wee bit.

The Cornhuskers held their final big scrimmage prior to the annual wind-up game next Saturday and the Red team, which had on its side both the No. 1 offensive team and the top defensive team, posted a narrow 36-27 victory over a White squad.

But the part of the day which had coach Bob Devaney asking the big question was the early part. When the top teams were excused for the day, about midway in the practice, the Reds held even a narrower lead, 15-14.

"This probably demonstrated that we have more depth than we thought we had," the coach said. Then he added: "Or our first two units are not as good as we thought."

"Sigler handled the team well and he threw well," Devaney praised after the contest. And his battery mate, Dennis Richnafsky from Clairton, Pa., drew a little mention from the coach, too.

The latter, a 5-10, 170-pounder has had a terrific spring as a split end. He had another good day Saturday, catching two touchdown passes from Sigler.

Neither of the two scoring passes were long—one and four yards—but there were some in the two White drives that were. In all Richnafsky caught passes from Sigler for 25, 15 and 13 yards. And Sigler threw a couple of 15 to Larry Casey.

It wasn't all up in the air for the Sigler-led White team as Ben Gregory, an-

Cyclones' Bats Rip Nebraska

By HAL BROWN

A boxer who doesn't carry a knockout punch doesn't win many toe-to-toe slugging matches and Nebraska's baseball team learned this painfully Saturday afternoon at the NU Diamond.

Nebraska hitters were overmatched in a slugfest with the likes of Iowa State's Dick Olsen and Al Tubbs as the Cyclones ripped out a 14-5 decision over the Huskers.

Before Nebraska starter Bob Stickels was removed from the game in the second inning, the Cyclones had enough runs—six—to win the game.

Iowa State wasted little time in teeing off on Stickels' so-so fast ball, scoring five times in the second after a solo run in the first inning.

The loss dropped Nebraska into third place with a 6-4 record and boosted Iowa State into second at 7-4, trailing league-leading Missouri by one game.

The Huskers are 1½ games back of the Tigers and lead Oklahoma State and Kansas only by percentage points.

Stickels got himself in trouble in the second by loading

Soulliere Is Coach of Year

Dean Soulliere

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Dean Soulliere, who has directed Columbus St. Bonaventure to the top of the Class B pack in both football and track, is the Sunday Journal and Star's 1965 High School Coach of the Year.

The 29-year-old native of Columbus is putting the same enthusiasm into coaching as he had as a 137-pound high school quarterback at St. Bonaventure.

In 1953 Dean quarterbacked Clete Fischer's Shamrocks in an unbeaten season. Last year he again had a hand in an unbeaten season, this time as coach of the Shamrocks. The undefeated campaign followed 7-1-1 and 6-2-1 seasons.

In 1963 Soulliere's track squad was nipped, 31-29, for the Class B track championship by Loup City. Last year the Columbus club won handily, piling up 33 points to 16 each for runnersup Gering and Chadron.

This year St. Bonaventure has won the Class B title at the Doane Invitational, the Class B title at Wayne's Blue Devil Relays and a fourth straight Nebraska Catholic Conference championship and is again regarded as one of the leading contenders for the state title.

Upon graduation in 1959 he signed as an assistant to Chuck Wolever at St. Bonaventure. When Wolever departed the next year Dean moved up.

"That first year was pretty tough," he recalls. "We had only three seniors on the football team and we had seven sopho-

Astros Near Orbit After 10 Straight

By Associated Press

The streaking Houston Astros rocketed to their ninth and 10th straight victories Saturday, sweeping a day-night double-header from the Chicago Cubs, 6-4 and 6-1.

Dave Giusti, a rookie right-hander, throttled the Cubs on six hits, including an eighth inning homer by Len Gabrielson, in the night game after Jim Wynn drove in three Houston runs with a pair of doubles and an infield out in the opener.

Giusti has won four straight during the Astros' streak, which began after the National League club dropped eight of its first 10 starts.

In other National League afternoon games, St. Louis edged Pittsburgh, 3-2, Cincinnati hammered New York, 9-2, and Milwaukee whipped Philadelphia, 6-1.

In the American League, Chicago nipped Minnesota, 2-1, Detroit trimmed Boston, 9-8, New York thumped Baltimore, 9-4, Cleveland whipped Washington, 7-2, and Los Angeles defeated Kansas City, 3-1.

Phil Gagliano singled across Bill White with the winning run for St. Louis in the seventh inning. Curt Flood and Tito Francona hit homers for the Cardinals while Willie Stargell connected for Pittsburgh.

Vada Pinson and Leo Cardenas each rapped three hits for Cincinnati while unbeaten Sammy Eillis stopped the Mets on six hits for his fourth triumph. Pinson's hitting included a three-run homer. Cardenas homered with none aboard.

Detroit won a one-run game on Bill Freehan's run-scoring double in the ninth. Al Kaline, who had walked, scored the run. Chuck Schilling had tied it 8-8 for Boston with his second pinch hit home run in two games in the top of the inning.

On the west coast Saturday night, Willie Davis singled home two runs in the eighth inning as the Los Angeles Dodgers rallied to beat San Francisco, 4-2.

I May Be Wrong

By Curt Mosher
Sunday Sports Columnist

It would be interesting to know if in all the history of crime there has ever been a baseball scout even remotely involved in anything which would classify him as a wanted man.

There's no way one could ever hide. Just go to a ballpark, whether it be a Yankee Stadium or a cow pasture there'll he'll be. You'll spot him. He'll either be the guy with the darkest sun tan or the one with the most mosquito bites, acquired while ch: sing after ball players day and night.

And they usually sit in a group. One well-placed beebee shot would get them all. They share, at least to some degree, their feelings and thoughts and information. There's always a chance they're holding back from one another, but they visit just the same.

It doesn't seem to make so much difference anymore. There seems to be something of an economy move under way in baseball, just like everywhere else. Some of the teams are getting together now and using one scout for all of their interests.

Dodgers Against It

Friday, at the doubleheader between Nebraska and Iowa State, for instance, there were five teams represented by two men. It didn't seem quite right, however, that four of the teams were represented by one man and one well sun-tanned fellow had only one team.

The "team player" was Chet Montgomery of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Chet not only was working for the Bucs, but also for the Milwaukee Braves, the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers.

The loner was Monty Basgall, not exactly a stranger here since he managed the Lincoln Chiefs in 1958, the final year of the Class A Western League.

Monty, then a member of the Pittsburgh organization, is now scouting for the Los Angeles Dodger organization. He's been with them ever since he quit managing.

Well, How's It Going?

So, what do these talent sleuths think of the pooling of scouts?

"We'll have to wait a year and see," Montgomery says. "We haven't been at it long enough to know. Football teams are doing it, you know."

Asked how it worked, Montgomery explained he sent duplicate sheets to all of the clubs in his group on those regarded as prospects. But that on college players where a report has to be made on each one, they went only to the specific club he worked for.

Is there a chance for cheating? Are you honest?

"We have to be," Montgomery said of the scouts in the field. "It's either be that way or be without a job."

The scouts pointed out that any one of the four clubs involved in the combine could, of course, double check with a scout of their own. And this likely would happen on a red hot prospect who might be in line for the big money.

Dodgers Against It

Basgall reports that the Dodgers are strictly against the socialistic approach to scouting. The scouts, themselves, don't seem to care much either way, except: "A bunch of us may be out of a job one of these days."

The solid baseball men like Basgall aren't too apt to be out of a job altogether, however. In fact, Monty, who managed only a couple of years in the Big State League and one here, has had opportunities to manage since then. He might again.

"They talked to me last fall," he said. "But I think I'll wait another year before I go back to it, even if I do."

He was at least considered for the Spokane job when Pete Reiser became sidelined. The Dodgers sent Duke Snider up there to run the club.

Colorado Drubs NU In Track

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Colorado overwhelmed Nebraska in the field events Saturday to win a Big Eight Conference track meet, 97-48.

Nebraska held an edge in the running competition but was able to take only three points to 60 for Colorado in field events.

Miller set the first mark as a sophomore in 1963. Miller also won the 120-yard high hurdles and anchored the winning mile relay team.

Jim Wendt, Nebraska's star middle distance man, toppled the 880 meet record with 1 minute, 52 seconds. This was a half second better than the old mark.

Another double winner was Nebraska's Dave Crook in the 220 and 440 dashes.

The outstanding performance in the field events was Barry King's 55-foot, 4¾-inch heave of the shot put for Colorado, bettering the old meet record of 54-7 set by Al Wellman of Nebraska in 1961.

It was the first dual loss of the season for the Huskers, indoors or out. They'll meet Big Eight Indoor champion Missouri next Saturday in Lincoln.

Derby Bet Is Record Once Again

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Racing fans wagered a record amount of money on the Kentucky Derby Saturday for the third straight year, putting $2,227,480 on the 11 thoroughbreds in the race.

This was $83,405 more than went through the parimutuel windows on last year's run for the roses.

The total betting on the nine Derby day races—$5,285,382—also was a record. It was $112,364 more than the old mark set last year.

Derby winner Lucky Debonair was the first horse in Churchill Downs history to pay more than $1 million on win tickets, with the payoff totaling $1,073,075.

other soph-to-be, unloaded some excellent running.

And it wasn't all offense for the Whites, either, as the limiting of the top offensive team to two touchdowns would indicate. The White defenders thwarted Red drives on a pass interception by Tom Pappas and on a fumble recovery by Al Kuehl.

The Reds had a share of the limelight, however. Hastings' Wayne Weber shared the No. 1 quarterbacking spot with Bob Churchich for the first time for any length of time and made the best of the opportunity.

He pitched a 24-yard scoring pass to end Freeman White and ran over a two-point conversion to prevent the first upset of the spring.

Weber was also in when the first Red touchdown was scored on a four-yard run by Harry Wilson. On the play he made a slick fake to Pete Tatman before sending Wilson in for the score.

Wilson had a good day running with the football and Devaney noted that Ron Kirkland showed some improvement running from the left halfback spot.

The total scoring picture for the day had a decided aerial flavor as Dennis Morrison pitched two cross-country jobs to Miles Kimmel for the Whites and Al Fierro pegged seven yards to Don Delaney for a Red tally.

The final two Red touchdowns came on the ground on seven and 18-yard runs by Charlie Winters, another sophomore back.

Only one placement was missed all day with Duncan Drum hitting two, Churchich one, George Buckler one and Steve Zemko three.

Devaney said the scrimmage, while at times a crisp affair, did not contain the consistently good hitting that a couple of the other workouts have produced.

In addition to those already mentioned, the coaching staff pointed to Jim McCord, Carel Stith and Roger Kudrna as players who enjoyed a good day.

Devaney said he thought that in the final intra-squad game next week the top offensive players would be going against the top defensive team.

the bases with three straight walks. Jerry Retzlaff singled two runs home and Tubbs followed with a homer over the 350-foot left field fence to put Iowa State out front, 6-0.

After Stickels walked another, George Flock came in to retire the side and then put the Cyclones down in order in the next inning before being lifted for a pinch hitter.

The Cyclones scored four times quickly with Olsen hitting a bases-loaded home run after Zangari had walked two and allowed an infield single.

Iowa State added two more in the fifth and another pair in the sixth, but they were just for fun.

Meanwhile Cyclone hurler Bob Ziegler was setting the Huskers down with an assortment of junk pitches and it took some sloppy fielding, plus a couple of bleeding infield hits for the Huskers to come up with their five runs.

Only three of the NU hits in the contest were out of the infield and Joe Gaughan's fifth-inning double that scored Randy Harris was the only extra base hit.

Two Building Jobs

The problems of setting up a business would be enough to keep most people busy, but if you are Don Erway, then you are busier than a postal clerk working alone on April 15.

Erway not only is in the process of setting up an insurance business, but as the recently-named coach of the Lincoln Comets, he is doubly-busy trying to put together a football team for next fall.

The Comets put the first two names on their roster the past week with the signing of former Huskers Chuck Doepke and Clarence Osentowski. With two in the bag, Erway points out that he hopes to name his assistant coaches in the near future.

"We hope then that we can pick up the pace faster in signing ball players," he says.

"We plan to sign 15 to 20 players by July so that we will have a fairly good idea of what we have to work with," Erway continues. "But this by no means assures these players of a place on the club. The players we don't sign will get just as much consideration in our practices as anyone.

"We are most interested in having players we don't contact let us know about their interests.

Passing Attack Sought

Anticipating a turnout of from 75 to 100 candidates, Erway plans to seek out players "who will lend themselves to moving the ball through the air" thus giving Lincoln fans a wide-open brand of football.

The Comets have had applications from 35 to 40 ball players with varying degrees of experience including service ball, high school football and college football. The Professional Football League of America has set a minimum of 80 and a maximum of 40 for its teams' rosters.

With the league following National Football League rules with complete platooning, Erway plans on "a ball club of specialists. We plan to have a defensive team that won't even run an offensive play either in practice or in a game and vice versa with the offensive platoon."

The Comets' coach, a former Nebraska quarterback, also notes that he has been encouraged by the interest shown in the first attempt to bring pro football to Lincoln.

"I have had a lot of comment from people on the team and people seem to be enthusiastic over it," he points out. "There has also been a lot of interest expressed by people who want to help with some of the coaching and other details."

In addition to two "full-time" assistants, Erway plans to use these interested people in certain areas. "There are several people who are knowledgable in football who want to help, but who can't devote the time to it that is required of a full-time assistant," he mentions.

No Character Building

The Comet coach is quick to explain the philosophy he hopes to follow with the pro team.

"Lincoln is not going to be out there playing for funsy," he asserts. "We aren't going to be trying to build character. We want to play good hard football with the emphasis on winning.

"The talk of the league is to make it a good strong league and we plan to do our part."

Kearney—Amherst's John Eckhout scored 46 points to boost his team to the Class D title and won the Bert Wallace Memorial Trophy as the meet's outstanding athlete as the Kearney State Invitational concluded Saturday.

Included in his bumper point harvest, singlehandedly good enough to beat all but two of the 46 schools entered, were gold medal marks in the 440 (:50.2) and broad jump (21-5).

The Bronco senior added seconds in the triple jump and low hurdles, a fourth in the high jump, a tie for third in the pole vault and a swift anchor leg that brought Amherst up to a second place finish in the mile relay.

While Eckhout was stealing the show in the Class D ranks, defending champion Grant and Wilber were waging a hot battle for team honors in Class C.

Grant, turning in four gold medal marks, weathered the Wilber attack and sewed up a repeat title by just one-third of a point by whipping the Saline County team in the 880 relay, the final event of the two-day meet which drew 115 teams.

Grant got a sprint slam from defending state champion Bill Daiss, who had gold medal marks of :10.2 in the 100 and :22.3 in the 220 and anchored the Perkins County team's 880 relay team in 1:33.1. Winds which slowed the Class A and B sprinters Friday subsided considerably Saturday afternoon.

Grant's fourth gold medal effort came from sophomore miler Cliff Colglazier, who outlasted Harvard's John Keller in a bristling duel in which each was clocked at 4:31.2. Colglazier and Kelley, last year's state 880 champ, ran shoulder to shoulder for three laps, then the Grant youngster opened up a four-yard lead on the final lap and barely held off the closing rush of the Harvard veteran.

Also stepping into the spotlight were the hurdlers. St. Edward's Ken Munsinger turned in the swiftest flight of high hurdles ever posted in the Kearney meet as he skimmed the barriers in :14.8.

In Class D Fairfield's Benny Congrove joined Eckhout as a double winner. Congrove won the shot put at 49-2½ and the discus with a 134-10½ effort.

Racing Official

Nickolite Popular Despite Decisions

By JACK ANDERSEN

Bob Nickolite is a popular young man around the auto race tracks in this area.

This wouldn't be much of a news item except that Bob is a 'referee' — and there just aren't many of them around that are popular.

But Nickolite is an exception. Actually, he is a flagman and starter with the Nebraska Super Modified Racing Association.

And in this capacity he acts as a referee and is as much in charge of the races as any official in other sports.

Bob will signal the start of Lincoln's 1965 season tonight with his green flag at Midwest Speedway. The green flag of course means everything is 'Go' and the track is clear for the exciting speed and thrills provided by the super modifieds.

"You have to make split decisions in auto racing just as in any other sport," says Nickolite. "Only here the importance is much greater. It could mean a disaster if the right flag were not used at the right moment in certain cases."

"I used to referee football and basketball games, but this is more hectic than either of those. Safety is always the first concern of any flagman."

In addition to his green flag Bob lists and defines the others as follows:

Yellow — caution, drivers must hold their positions; blue—signal for slower cars to move inside to allow the leaders to pass without interference; white—one lap remaining in any race; red—all cars must stop; black—used to disqualify a certain driver for unsportsman like driving or possibly because of a car defect the driver is unable to detect; black and white checkered—end of a race.

Nickolite got an early introduction into sports. He was an All-State football end on the Columbus High School team of 1950.

Within two years of his graduation he was starting his first car race at a North Platte track. Since that time he has worked at all the major tracks from Denver to Kansas City.

His Lincoln career began in 1954 and he currently holds down the post with Midwest Speedway on Sunday nights and Eagle Raceway on Saturday nights.

Lucky Debonair Takes Derby

Bold Lad Finishes Way Back

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Lucky Debonair, Kentucky-bred, Chicago-owned and pride of California, came charging through on the rail for a narrow victory in the 91st Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Carrying the white cerise silks of Mrs. Ada L. Rice, the son of Vertex came out of the pack of 11 three-year-olds and took the lead one-eighth of a mile from the end of the 1¼-mile race.

He then held off the closing bid of Ogden Phipps' lightly-regarded Dapper Dan.

Tom Rolfe, from the Powhatan stables of Raymond Guest, U.S. ambassador to Ireland, was third, with the highly-regarded Bold Lad, a stablemate of Dapper Dan, never a serious threat and running out of the money.

The official margin was Lucky Debonair by a neck, with Dapper Dan two lengths in front of Tom Rolfe and Maj. Albert Warner's Native Charger another length back in fourth.

Lucky Debonair paid $10.60, $5.40 andd $4.20. Dapper Dan was $26 and $12.60 and Tom Rolfe was $4.80 to show.

The start of America's most colorful horse race, before a packed Churchill Down crowd of 100,000 that sprawled into the infield, was delayed one-half hour when a fire broke out in the upper tier boxes of the wooden clubhouse stands.

The fire, which was discovered as horses paraded to the post for the sixth race, prior to the Derby, was brought under control after 12 minutes but not before some 3,500 fans had been evacuated from the area.

Lucky Debonair, who went into the Derby with a record of five victories and three seconds in eight starts this year, earned $112,000 of the gross purse of $154,500.

Although he previously had won the Santa Anita Derby and Keeneland's Blue Grass Stakes, he was not too popular with the crowd at the betting windows as the bettors slashed the odds on the Wheatley Stable's Bold Lad to 9-5.

The 26-year-old left fielder was carried from the field on a stretcher and taken to the dressing room, where his condition was diagnosetd by Dr. Robert Kerlan, the club physician. Davis was taken to Daniel Freeman Hospital for X-rays and confinement.

Two Lincoln men were injured, one seriously, in a one-car accident Saturday at Eagle Raceway

Driver of the car was identified as Louis Quattrocchi of 611 Windsor, who reportedly was not seriously injured.

Lucky Debonair, b.c. by Vertex—Fresh as Fresh. Owner Mrs. A.L.Rice. Trainer F.Catrone. Bred by Danada Farm.

Lucky Debonair broke alertly to show the way through opening furlong, dropped back a bit when Shemaker took a snug hold nearing sixteenth marker, moved up again to engage Flag Raiser midway of first turn, continued to dual with that one while along outside to final quarter where he moved to fore when sharply roused, moved off to a lengthy advantage through upper stretch but was fully extended to turn back a belated bid from Dapper Dan. The latter, away slowly and unhurried for six furlongs, moved up along inside on leaving backstretch, angled out sharply to launch his closing rally on final bend and responding to strong handling was slowly getting to winner. Tom Rolfe, in hand for a half mile, moved up boldly along inside to engage top flight at half mile ground, dropped back a bit on rounding second turn only to come again while under extreme pressure and finished gamely. Native Charger bumped while between horses entering first turn, quickly recovered to remain in contention while along outside to loom menacingly on stretch turn and finished evenly in a good effort. Hail To All, slow to begin as usual, launched a rally on rounding second turn and finished boldly while between horses through closing drive. Mr. Pak finished well. Swift Ruler failed to reach contention. Flag Raiser came out soon after start to bump with Carpenter's Rule, was quickly straightened away to take a clear lead the initial run through stretch, came to inside thereafter to be well-rated only to weaken badly through closing drive. Carpenter's Rule was bumped soon after teh start and failed to reach contention. Bold Lad in hand while being outrun early and saving ground, was angled to outside soon after entering backstretch to reach a contending position at half mile ground, continued well to top of stretch where he gave way badly in final drive. Narushua showed forwardly for three-quarters and tired badly.

Sidney's King Turns in :49.1 Clocking in 440

Chadron (AP)—Dave King of Sidney turned the 440 in 49.1 seconds Saturday for the third best time in state prep history in the Western Nebraska Conference track and field meet. His time matched the :49.1 run by Grand Island's Bob Brouhard during the 1963 state high school track meet.

He trailed only a 48.1 seconds by Jim Johnson and a 48.4 seconds by Bob Cross, both Boys Town athletes.

Alliance won the meet with 87½ points, followed by Sidney with 54½, Ogallala 44½, Gering 43, and Chadron 26.

Chadron's Ben Roberts swept the hurdles with a record 15.2 seconds in the highs and 21.8 in the lows.

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's Robin Lingle ran the mile in 4:01.7 Saturday for the fastest college outdoor time in the nation this season as the Tigers beat Kansas State 91½-52½ in a dual meet.

Lingle's time set a meet, stadium and Missouri school record. He also won the three-mile run in 14:38.4.

Six meet records were broken and two equaled.

Erickson Leads SE Past Links

Lincoln Southeast notched its first baseball win of the season Saturday afternoon as the Knights defeated crosstown rival Lincoln High, 4-1, at Municipal Field.

The Knights rode the strong one-hit pitching of Bob Erickson, who had only four pitches hit out of the infield.

The lone Lincoln High hit was a home run by catcher Jack Galusha, that coming in the lower sixth inning.

The Knights had scored twice in the fifth and added two more in the seventh. Mike Fosdick led the Knights' hitters as he had a perfect day—four for four—at the plate and drove in three runs.

Shortstop Tom Tidball drove in the other Knight run.

Norman, Okla. (AP) — Colorado pitcher Adrian Mohr forced in the winning run Saturday as the Oklahoma Sooners clipped Colorado 6-5 in 11 innings in the deciding game of a three-game Big Eight Conference baseball series.

A walk to Joe Windes with the bases loaded forced in Carl Shreiner, who had doubled to open the inning. With Shreiner at second, Jay Cronley bunted and both men were safe when the play for Shreiner at third was late. A walk to Tommy Maxwell loaded the bases.

Iowans Seek Opponents

The schedule squeeze, which is becoming a problem for Nebraska Class A teams, is also being felt by Central High School in Sioux City, Iowa.

Nebraska Class A schools are in a realignment process following the founding of the Metropolitan and Trans-Nebraska Conferences. New conference commitments are bringing about some marked changes in the Class A schedules.

Central is fighting a geographical problem at present. Football coach Bruce Pickford writes that his 1965 slate includes only seven games, and in 1966 his team has only six dates filled.

Central, which has no conference ties, is seeking to fill Oct. 29 and Nov. 4 dates. The same weekends, plus a Sept. 10 date, are open in 1966.

Pickford is seeking a Nebraska opponent for either a one-year or long-term contract. "We hope that there might be someone in your area who would be interested," he writes.

Bright Prospect

The Sioux City school, by the way, has a young miler who may be heard from before he finishes his high school career.

He's Doug Smith, who turned in a 4:26.4 clocking in a freshman meet. As of last week there were only three better high school marks in the Hawkeye state.

Although ninth graders are eligible for state meet competition in Iowa, his coaches at West Junior High School and Central aren't planning on moving him out of junior high competition this season.

Young Smith is also reported to be a good basketball prospect, but it isn't surprising. His older brother Dan has been an all-stater the past two years at Central.

Kansas Marks Better

The only events the Nebraska preps prevail in are the high hurdles and shot put. Omaha Central's Joe Orduna, swiftest hurdler in Nebraska prep history (:14.1) and Scottsbluff strongboy Steve Yungblut, who has thrown the shot put 60-1, have better marks than the Kansans.

Most noteworthy, of course, is a 4:02 mile by Wichita East's Jim Ryun, the national record holder. Ryun also has posted a 1:53.5 in the 880.

One of Ryun's teammates, J. W. Johnson, leads the Kansas charts in three events. He has a :09.7 mark in the 100, a :14.3 in the high hurdles and an :18.7 in the lows.

Heavy Schedule

Prep Thinclads Ready For District Qualifying

The heavy schedule is topped by the Big Ten meet at Kearney Friday, where Grand Island and Scottsbluff will be challenged by Kearney for the title in what could be the best team race in several years.

MONDAY

TUESDAY
Goldenrod Conference at St. Paul, Cook Invitational.

WEDNESDAY

THURSDAY

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

Hillcrest Expects Twenty Teams

The 18-hole event will be the second of the season on the Nebraska pro-am schedule. The first tourney was played last week at Miracle Hills in Omaha.

KU Gridders Injured in Drill

Shamrock Relay Teams Impressive in State Meets

But the youth movement laid the groundwork for St. Bonaventure's climb to the top. The Shamrocks have lost only seven games in the past four seasons.

"We try to keep everybody out for football, because we need all the boys we can get," he says.

"But in track we cut it down to those who are really interested," he adds. The squad has been trimmed to 26 this spring.

"We always train our sophomores as middle distance runners. This gets them in the right frame of mind so that we can ask them to run anything up through an 880. Then they can do a decent job in just about any race," he explains.

Even Dave Kudron, a two-year winner of the Class B high hurdles and the gold medal winner as a senior, was a member of Soulliere's middle-distance corps as a sophomore.

The philosophy of creating versatility underlies the success that the Shamrocks have had in relay events. In the last three years St. Bonaventure has scored in both the 880 and mile relays in the state meet. This spring the Shamrocks own the second-fastest times in both the mile and two-mile relays in Class B.

In the past three years five of his St. Bonaventure gridders have been tabbed for duty in the Shrine Bowl, which draws the state's top prep talent.

Dean, too, has been honored by being named as an assistant coach on a Shrine Bowl squad. He served last August on the North staff in a game won by the North 12-3.

Dean and his wife Colleen, an Akron, Iowa, girl he met and married while attending Wayne, have three children, but there aren't any propective football players in the group.

As is so often the case with coaches, the Soulliere children are all girls. But perhaps Dean will be able to build a relay team around Kelly (three), Kim (two) and Kathy (one).

If he does, you can bet it will be a good one.

Shrine Knothole Section Set Up

Robert C. Russell, president of Shrine Bowl of Nebraska, Inc., has announced that there will be a knothole section for the seventh annual game scheduled Aug. 21 at Memorial Stadium.

It will be the first time since the inaugural game in Omaha that a knothole section has been used.

Softball Meeting

Adair Sets New Fielding Record

Adair's feat, passing him past the 418 set by the late Ken Hubbs of the Chicago Cubs, came in the fifth inning of a game with the New York Yankees when he covered first on a sacrifice bunt by New York's Bobby Richardson.

ACC Tourney

Greensboro, N.C. (UPI) — The 1966 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament will be held at Raleigh, N.C., annual site of the classic since 1950. The tournament, however, will be shifted to Greensboro, N.C., in 1967 and to Charlotte, N.C., in 1968.

Wichita Prep Stars To Follow KU Coach

Wichita, Kan. (AP)—Track coach Bob Timmons of the University of Kansas said Saturday that Olympic miler Jim Ryun and his high school teammate, Mike Patterson, will attend KU.

Operation Outdoors

Pete Czura

I remember my first visit into the areas near Humboldt, Wymore, Tecumseh, Pawnee City, and other little towns.

This was many years ago when I was enthralled with the vistas of many trees growing here.

During my wanderings into this same area, during the past year, I have been astounded at the manner the majestic cottonwoods, stately elms, and weeping willows have been destroyed by landowners.

While the state is embarked on a tree-planting binge, and great publicity is given to planting of 10 trees, hundreds of beautiful trees are biting the dust this very minute in Southeast Nebraska.

We don't know why, nor have we asked, how come. But we do know, that this area once rich with resplendent trees is no longer that way.

Give 'Em Message

Maybe someone should tell the tree destroyers it takes a long time for a tree to reach its full measure of beauty. It doesn't happen overnight.

Plant More, Save More

Yes, it's good to plant young trees, for this is one of the finest living memorials anyone can leave behind when he must depart for the Happy Hunting Grounds.

But we must plant more, and save those we do have now.

Maybe Nebraskans enjoy the terrible image out-of-staters have of us. As one of them put it succintly:

"When I hit the Missouri Rver I step on the gas and hope I can get across that long state in a hurry."

If you have ever driven on Highways 30 or 20, you'll know what they mean . . . miles and miles of Nebraska without very many trees to break the monotony of flat land.

Why Teal Permits?

Guess you might say, it's like it used to be in the old World War II days, men: Regimentation, and Hurry Up and Stand In Line Waiting For Something To Happen!

Personally, we'll go wet a line around that time of year and won't get into line for a special teal permit. You can have mine!

Little Town Has Big Ideas

Enders Plans Recreation Project

By TERRY ANDERSON

The people of the town, located on the shores of Enders Lake, are going in for a recreation project that would include:

—grass greens golf course and driving range;
—club house and restaurant;
—boat marina and launching area;
—amphitheater;
—rifle and archery range;

This entertainment complex is being envisioned by an unincorporated town of just over 70 people on a 175-acre site east of town near the junction of highways U.S. 6 and Neb. 61.

At last count the membership drive has gone above the 200.

The next two weeks will be the most crucial for the town's plans. They must know in the near future whether or not they are to go ahead with their plans. Consequently they have set up a deadline for May 15. By that time they hope to have the final 200 commitments to cinch the project.

Wayne Hoskins, one of the main sparkplugs in the Enders project, indicated, "The idea is to offer something attractive for nearly everyone involved in the association."

Dr. Ernest Schreiner of Benkelman, president of the non-profit group noted that the association could set up other projects to go with those already mentioned such as a lighted baseball diamond, volleyball and basketball courts, or similar things desired by the members.

The group has already applied for a federal loan for the extensive development and it is felt that the loan would be approved if the total number of memberships is reached.

Because of the area involved it is impossible for the association to contact prospective members, so it is hoped, they report, that interested families and individuals will contact them.

Ticket Mailing Readied

"All work in connection of changing our operation over to IBM has been completed, and we will start mailing immediately," Pittenger said.

The NU ticket director stressed that the current mailing will apply only to season ticket renewals—not new orders for new seats.

"All fans who have ordered new season tickets—those who did not have tickets last year, or those who are ordering additional new seats —will be notified about their status at a later date," Pittenger said.

He indicated this probably would not be until after a definite decision about the proposed North Stadium addition and probably after June 10 —final date for payment of ticket renewals.

"We cannot process new applications until we know what tickets have or have not been renewed," Pittenger said.

We need listings. We are a farm land company. We spend our entire time listing, financing, selling and closing land deals. We have sold, financed and closed up over $136,000 worth of land since January 1. All this land was within 25 miles of Lincoln. We are not asking you to list your land with us because we are farmers as we do not claim to be. We are farm salesmen, realtors and we have been in the farm land business exclusively for over 50 years. We have connections whereby we can secure the ultimate amount of a farm loan at a reasonable rate of interest for 20 to 25 years. If you list your farm with us we handle the entire transaction, selling, financing and closing. We have never raised the commission rate. Our price is only 5% for the full supervision and it costs you nothing if we don't get your farm sold. We have sold over 80% of all farms listed with us in the past year. If you wish to buy or sell land or if you wish to have a farm financed, come and see us.
We have some excellent acreages listed, located close to Lincoln on Highway 77 South, close to 70th and Pioneers, and close to 84th and Pioneers.

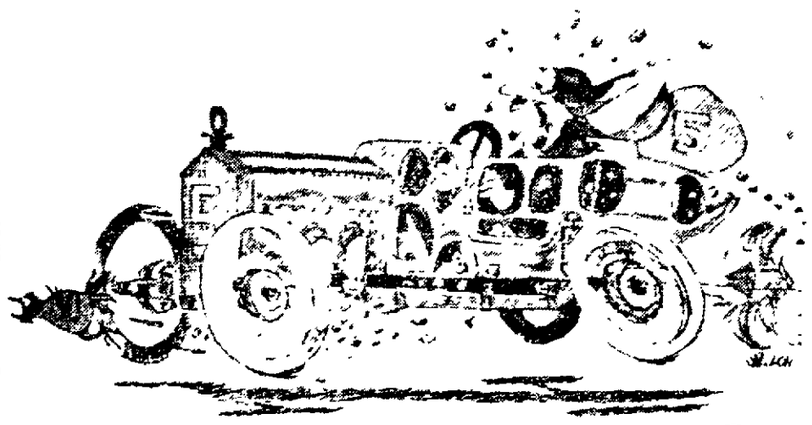
HOW IT ALL BEGAN



Bandini Chickens Out

Guido Bandini a 1910 race car driver, suffered agonies from the heat of his 400 hp engine. Undaunted, he cut large holes in his machine to let in air. He let in rocks, too, which pounded his chest. These were followed by a deceased chicken which was untidy.

One look at himself encouraged Bandini to swerve into the nearest Aid Station for much needed aid, whereupon the local Aid Station acquired a very speedy ambulance in payment for their splintered gate.

'Fantasticks' Is Gold Mine

By WILLIAM GLOVER

Consider "The Fantasticks," a midget marvel which Monday heads into the sixth year of a gold-mine run at a small Greenwich Village playhouse

The longest running show in town by far, it has to date grossed over $1.1 million on an investment of $16,500 and reaped 1,500% profit, to the gleeful surprise of hesitant backers.

Playing its 2,088th performance on its birthday, the show ranks fourth in New York's all-time musical longevity records, behind "My Fair Lady" (2,717, "The Threepenny Opera" (2,611) — which also ran off-Broadway — and "Oklahoma!" (2,212)

Noto

Other companies have put on the whimsical fantasy about young love in more than 300 American and foreign cities

Noto recalls that "hundreds and hundreds of people" shrugged off bids to invest. He raised the final $3,000 "by hocking all my possessions." A reluctant landlord who didn't think it would run booked the show at the Sheridan Square, a 150-seat hall that was once a speakeasy. Through last Dec. 31 he had collected $94,645.01 rental.

In seeking $300,000 to produce "The Yearling" ($103,000 collected thus far) Noto has run into a repeat of "The Fantasticks" struggle. A lot of its 57 backers have exhibited high reluctance to get involved in a Broadway show for which the producer doesn't want any name stars.

He Views the West

Lorne Greene of NBC's "Bonanza" series leaves the Ponderosa to conduct a musical-documentary history of the frontier on "Lorne Greene's American West", colorcast over NBC at 8 p.m. Monday

Rock 'n' Roller Youngsters Reaping Millions

By DORIS KLEIN

Hollywood (AP) — Ten years ago a shaggy-haired kid from Memphis named Elvis Presley was singing, twanging a guitar and wiggling his pelvis. He was also sparking a rock 'n' roll revolution.

"He won't last,' said the grownups. "The music won't either."

But Elvis, now 30, is still world-wide record sales king and a new generation of singers is warbling, screeching, strumming and thumping to try to match his success.

With the Beatles, they began to come in groups — the Zombies, the Kinks, the Beach Boys, the Animals, the Houdels, the Condors and scores of others.

Most are as young as the kids they entertain. And their tight pants, shoulder-length hair and self-designed outfits make Elvis' sideburns and gold-kid jackets look tame.

The music is loud, has a heavy beat and has produced such immortal tunes as "Leader of the Pack," a teen-age girl's lament over her boy friend who was killed in a motorcycle accident.

While a television pilot film may cost $500,000 to produce, and a low budget movie $1 million, a good master record can be cut for only a few thousand dollars. The results can be phenomenal.

Britain's mop-haired Beatles catapulted Capitol Records' total domestic sales to an all-time high in 1964 — 65% over 1963. Nearly 19 million single Beatle records and a like number of Beatle albums have been sold in the United States alone.

In 1955, Bob was running a dying record company in the back room of a Philadelphia restaurant. He made ends meet by waiting on tables out front.

"What we need," he said to his partner, "is a teen-age idol — like Elvis."

Bob found Frankie Avalon by asking the lad, a 16-year-old trumpet player, to sing

He put Frankie in tight pants and bright sweaters, got him a haicut and soon — Frankie was a millionaire singer and movie star. Marcucci got his agent's 10%. A few years later, Marcucci did the same for Fabian. Both later went on to other managers and Marcucci went scouting again.

Marcucci spotted John Andrea, a saxophone player from Newark, N.J., playing with a combo last year in an Atlantic City Night Club.

"Give me a ring sometime, kid," said Marcucci

"I thought he was kidding," says Andrea. But after hearing about Fabian and Avalon from others, John gave Bob a ring. The buildup has taken a year — at Marcucci's expense. His investment, says Marcucci, is about to pay off.

Gary Lewis (center), comedian Jerry's son, rehearses with his Playboy group at Lewis' Los Angeles home. Lewis borrowed money from his mother's sugar bowl to finance his first recording, "The Diamond Ring," which then hit the number one spot on all the charts. He made it, a disc jockey says, because he has the right sound and the right beat.

At Shrine Circus

Some Kids Perform, Others Watch Them

Throughout the years that the Gil Gray Shrine Circus has been enteratining Lincoln area kiddies, there have been performing horses, performing dogs, performing elephants and various other four-legged stars.

Leopards have been trained to jump through fire, seals play basketball, a monkey rides a greyhound, llamas leap over ponies, elephants emulate Fonteyn and Nureyev, and so on.

Thrilling acts include the Flying Johnsons, with their tricky mid-air crosses; the exuberant Carlyle teeterboard sextet; the Wong balancers; the Reynosa Trio, whose inverted gyrations depend on very strong teeth; the unicycling Whiz Kids, and many others.

This year's Shrine Circus will be at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum Tuesday through Sunday, with nightly performances at 8:15, matinees through Thursday at 2:30 p.m., Friday matinee at 3:15 p.m, two Saturday matinees, at 1 and 3 p.m., and a final Sunday performance at 2:30 p.m. There will be no night show Sunday.

Ornithologists Meet This Week

Superior — Ornithologists, naturalists and amateur birdwatchers are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska Ornithologists' Union, Inc. here Friday through next Sunday.

Activities will include the presentation of scientific papers by members and talks by Mrs. Oona S. Bassett of Tryon and Dr. Mary Tremaine of Omaha.

Speaking at the banquet will be Dr. James H. Enderson.

ENDLESS CIRCLE ?

A FABULOUS GUIDED TOUR IN PERSON WITH
Recent On-the-scene Observations by:
KENNETH S. ARMSTRONG

From coup to coup, ambush to ambush, crisis to crisis, a seemingly endless circle Kenneth S Armstrong sheds light on a colorful and vital area in crisis During his three extensive assignments he spent many months in every corner of South Viet Nam. He has been up to the front lines in helicopters roaring over the death-filled rice paddies He has met the Vietnamese people in cities and hamlets, interviewed their leaders; faced the crossbows of the primitive Montagnards, and experienced Communist gunfire He brings the story behind the headlines. Only through deeper knowledge of the people, their history, religion and customs can one understand the events in this chaotic region No other American lecturer has covered South Viet Nam so thoroughly. An authoritative, up-to-the-minute report.

Mystery

Starts Tuesday 'Dr. No' Varsity

James Bond (Sean Connery) journeys to Jamaica to investigate the puzzling death of a British confidential agent and runs into the mysterious "Dr. No," who has a terrible secret weapon. Ursula Andress helps one of them.

Co-feature: "From Russia With Love," also starring Conery, with pretty Daniela Bianchi as his co-star this time. Daniela is the pawn of a sinister plot to get rid of Connery.

Mad, Mad, Mad Mad Desert

At the Khan Canyon location for the Paramount release, set in the middle of the parched Southwest African desert, there is a dry river bed. It was the wrong color, so hundreds of tons of sand had to be moved in and spread. To the tribesmen this was just putting sand on sand . . . quite mad!

Towering high above the river bed is a profusion of rocks of all shapes and colors, running in all directions. But they were not exactly where the director wanted them . . . so the construction gang got busy.

As they labored to make the setting for a scene between Susannah York and Nigel Davenport, the tribesmen asked wonderingly, "God made so many rocks —why do you have to make more?"

'Leading Lady'

Hollywood (UPI) — Jerry Lewis has cast 8-year-old Donna Butterworth a native of Hawaii, for his "leading lady" in the comedian's new picture "The Family Jewels."

Easy Fall Not Simple After All

And with cameras whirring, producers praying and press agents frantically taking notes, the star cleaves the water from a traumatic height of 4½ feet.

But in the movie and press releases the height comes out 40 feet and the image of Harry Highdive is preserved. Indeed, enhanced. The following day, however, a double takes a dive off a 40 foot cliff and that is what eventually winds up in the picture

Glenn Corbett, handsome star of two defunct video series (It's a Man's World and Route 66), was called upon to dive through a skylight for a segment of "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." in which he was appearing as guest star.

He was supposed to land flat on his tomach on a pile of mattresses stacked on a scaffold some ten feet below the skylight

The glass in the skylight was made of a candy-based substance that shatters but doesn't cut In this case it broke unevenly, pitching Corbett downward head first.

"As they say in the movies, okay, dissolve and pick up the action three weeks later. We find Corbett in St. John's Hospital contemplating the virtues of stunt men.

Fortunately, MGM (where he was injured) is fully insured and is picking up the hospital and medical tabs. It is also making sure that actors from now on do not attempt stunts that are better done by professional stunt men

TV Fuss Changes Career

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York (AP)—When Gary Smith, 29-year-old producer, was dreaming up a new musical-variety hour for NBC, he ordered up a rocking, strong-beat theme song, "Hullabaloo." To accompany it, he required a new dance to be called, naturally, "The Hullabaloo."

They were to be used weekly to open "Hullabaloo," as a means of viewer identification and, hopefully, to start a new fad amongst the young viewers.

A very pretty blonde, 20-year-old dancer-singer-actress Joey Heatherton, was chosen to inaugurate the show's choreographed signature.

Joey appeared before the cameras and went into choreographer David Winter's dance, which involved considerable twisting, turning and writhing in the modern mode

"Well, that did it," she recalls with a small shudder. 'The NBC switchboard lit up like Broadway One

"It was nothing more than the kids are doing all over the country, and not too different from dances like the pony, the mashed potato and the hully gully," she says. "Maybe it was just that their parents and older people hadn't seen them. But I'm pretty sure that it wasn't the dance. I think it was the camera angles."

At any rate, "The Hullabaloo" dance has been severely modified and largely confined to head and shoulder flinging

"Hullabaloo" fame has changed the course of her motion picture career, Joey thinks.

"For some reason, every time I'd have an acting part, I'd be the provocative wench, the witchy one — not too nice. But now they are thinking of me for more attractive, respectable roles."

Networks Put 'Early Bird' to Use

By GINNY FISHER

While television still abounds with carnivorous comedies, over-factual documentaries and deadening dramas, this week the news on specials is news

Television is taking advantage of the new Early Bird communications satellite beginning with the all-network premiere at 11 a.m. today.

The program, which includes astronauts in training, a heart-valve operation, a "wanted persons" list and various sports, will be broadcast by all local stations except KETV, although it's network, ABC is carrying.

The satellite is used by CBS to present Barry Goldwater in New York. Dean Rusk and Sir Alec Douglas-Home in London and a colleague in France on "Town Meeting of the World." CBS broadcasts this meeting twice on Monday: at noon, carried locally only by WOW, and at 9 p.m., only on KOLN-KGIN.

Also on Monday, NBC airs "Panorama" at 6 30 p m, featuring America's Chet Huntley in London and British newsman Richard Dimbleby in New York. Huntley will tour Runnymeade and Dimbleby plans to show how the British treat American news.

On Saturday, General Eisenhower and Lord Montgomery will reminisce via satellite and pay tribute to the allied fighting men of World War II on CBS's "Europe, 20 Years After," broadcast live at 11 a.m. and replayed at 8 p.m. Berlin, Coventry, Monte Cassino and St. Lo are among the sites visited.

ABC plans to use Early Bird for its early evening news, with Peter Jennings reporting from London this Monday and from Paris on May 10.

Although not using Early Bird, other specials carry the accent of news, too

Evaluation of President Johnson's progress in achieving the proposals outlined in his State of the Union message is given on "LBJ Report No. 4", an NBC news special at 4 this afternoon

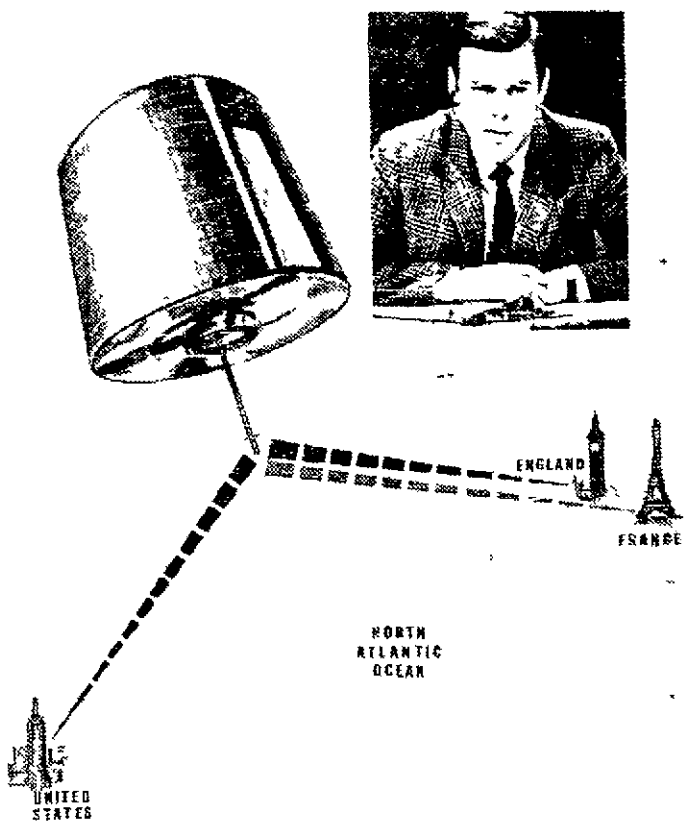
KMTV offers "Law Day", a report on the Douglas County court system, at 12:30 p.m. today. Also scheduled is "Meet the Candidates" for 2 p.m. today to introduce the 14 candidates for Omaha City Council.

WOW-TV features Omaha's council candidates at 5 30 p.m.

For Lincoln's local elections on Tuesday, radio stations KFOR, KLMS and KLIN will begin giving results at 8 p m when the polls close.

News note: your favorite radio station may have an extra bonus in listening as this is the first week in National Radio Month

With the start of celebrations, a list of the radio stations carrying the series based on the International Convocation on Pacem in Terris was released No Nebraska radio station is on it So if you're interested you have to turn to their competition, notably KUON-TV which telecasts Pacem at 9 p.m. Mondays.



ABC newsman Peter Jennings will broadcast his 5:30 p m. news from London via Early Bird and, next Monday, he will report from Paris.

Barton Lewis, station manager of Lincoln's second FM station, KWHG, has announced that they are off the air temporarily as their testing is believed completed and they are awaiting FCC approval.

Bob Hope is a marriage broker trying to win the west with mail-order brides on the comedy segment 'Have Girls—Will Travel" on NBC's 'Bob Hope Theater" at 7 30 p m. Friday. The girls are Jill St John, Rhonda Fleming and Marilyn Maxwell with cameo appearances by Lucille Ball, Jack Benny and Richard Deacon.

"Andy Griffith Show" gets a king-sized headache when Barney goes on vacation and is temporarily replaced by Jerry Van Dyke who can play the banjo and, well, play the banjo. Series airs at 7 30 p m. Monday over CBS

'Lorne Green's American West" colorcast on NBC at 8 p m Monday, is going to have their saloon girls look authentic, straight hair, toothless and all One hint don't plan on snacking during the show as their painted appearances are supposed to "take away a vulture's appetite."

Lucille Ball has a spot on "Bob Hope Theater" Friday evening.

Our Little Town

Small Fry Distribute Joys in May Baskets

By GERTRUDE SKINNER
Ruskin

Did you receive a May basket yesterday? We did. In fact we received several from the small fry here in our town and had the fun of chasing after the donors to claim the traditional kiss.

My brother and his family who live in Detroit have been visiting us and they got a big charge out of all the May basket activity. The custom is not practiced in the area where they live.

Our windows, open to the first warm day of spring, carried to us the unmistakable busy talk of children. We looked out to see five little tykes age 3 to 7 years making their way up the road, excitedly bending to pick the first dandelions of spring. By the time they reached our driveway, each chubby little fist held a bouquet of gold.

"These are for you," they proudly said.

Shortly afterward, Jimmy, a loner, rapped politely at our front door. He asked if he might pick a few tulips. I told him to help himself and returned to my guests. Within seconds there was a rap at our back door. There stood Jimmy. Smiling shyly he proffered the tulips he had picked from our yard.

"These are for you," he proudly said

My city relatives, who said that they would never allow their children out of their sight because of the untold dangers that lurk in the streets, were amazed at the way our children roam at will. We have nothing to fear for our own children in a little town, for each house is a home and each child is loved in that home.

Liberty Girl, 11, Wins Dictionary

Liberty — For Priscilla Boyer it was two entries and two prizes.

The 11-year-old fifth grader earned them one at a time though, both in Funland Coloring Contests of The Sunday Journal and Star. A set of coloring pencils was awarded several weeks ago, and in the latest contest a Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary.

"Priscilla is an A student and a hard worker" said her Liberty teacher, Mrs. Neva Rhine. "Also, she gets valuable encouragement at home."

The new book will add to that encouragement and to that of an older brother and sister. Priscilla's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boyer who farm three miles south of Liberty.

Other recent contest winners include Cindy Beran of Odell and Ginny Phillips of 2745 Jackson Drive Lincoln. Both will receive color-by-number sets.

Opera's Darling Is a Slinky Delilah

New York (UPI)—The box score for the now completed 80th season of the Metropolitan Opera is compiled and who do you suppose made the most unassisted plays? Why, slinky Delilah—that deceptively dangerous babe who beguiled Samson into letting her cut his hair!

She is opera's most unalloyed sex kitten. Only her own merits — or lack of them—were on the operatic line, and the Met's paying customers made her their character sweetheart of the season.

The characters who ran up the next best unassisted total were those who operate the longest, most detailed pure-sex scenes in opera — in Richard Strauss! "Der Rosenkavlier." This one-two finish for sex in an operatic sweepstakes may explain why the Met has a Cleopatra in the works.

The Met gave 190 performances of 25 operas in its longest season ever which was the next to the last in its old, storied opera house. Sixteen of them were of Puccini's "Tosca," and she is more of a heroic lady than a sex symbol. But her top placement was very far from being unassisted.

The Met management, with its box-office wisdom, pitted a half dozen prima donnas in a contest of who could portray her most tellingly. They included Renata Tebaldi and Maria Callas. Clearly these audiences were much more interested in prima donnas than in a character.

Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor" went mad on the stage 14 times but again these were heavily assisted plays—assisted by Joan Sutherland, currently opera's most powerful box-office magnet, who can pack any opera house anywhere no matter what role she has.

Preparations for the final season in the decayed house at Broadway and 39th St. are well under way. It will open Sept. 27 with a new production of Gounod's "Faust" and the very next night there will be a new production of Tchaikovsky's "Pique Dame."

The Met's new opera house in Lincoln Center is in the last stages of construction and will be ready in ample time for the 1966-67 season. Cleopatra will be the substance of its inaugural night. Samuel Barber, the American composer, is working on her. The Met has given him a commission to compose an opera based on Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra."

Send Pupils Is Plea By Heifetz

Hollywood (AP) — "I am a teacher; I need students." With that simple comment, violin virtuoso Jascha Heifetz issued a call for young musicians to study under his guidance.

Heifetz is a perfectionist in all things. He devoted his entire life to his violin, and no one surpassed him in artistry. In his new work as a teacher he strives for perfection on a smaller scale, but perfection nonetheless.

He has been disturbed by the progress of his classes at the University of Southern California.He feels they have been successful, but limited.

"I want to let students know that I am looking for outstanding talent," he said. "I know there is talent out there, but I haven't been getting it in large enough numbers. I would like to appeal to the violin teachers and professors of the country to loosen up and send me their best pupils.

"They should not be so stingy. I believe in exchange. I send them students, and I wish they would send me students. I will audition them and send them back if they do not qualify."

Heifetz added wryly: "The fact that I am teaching at USC has been a well-kept secret. It is about time the secret was let out."

The Heifetz Master Class, a title he is a bit uneasy about, is a curious one by academic standards.

"We don't go by the book," he explained. "I give no medals, no diplomas, no grades. Students can now get credit for the course, but that is something recent. While I do not give grades, I may flunk a student. I am a teacher; it is my duty."

Dreiser. By W. A. Swanberg, Scribners.

A genius. Also a "selfish, bullying, unreasonable, capricious, deceitful, evil old man."

Few who have read Dreiser's work, and there are great numbers who have not, fail to agree on his genius Swanberg, the fifth, at least, of Dreiser's biographers, sees it but is more concerned with all the other things the author was or was not.

The prodigious drama of this strange life could not be caught, as Swanberg says, by the newspapers when Dreiser died at 74 in 1945, almost a forgotten man of American letters. Can it be caught even now?

Here was "a shoeless Indiana boy with hurts that never healed," whose novels and whose 25-year struggle for freedom to express the truths of life as he saw them, bridged the literary chasm between Howells and Hemingway.

Vast Hunger

Never an intellectual or even a logical thinker, he apparently didn't consider that he was creating at 29 a revolutionary work when he wrote "Sister Carrie" in 1900 He put in it a compassion for human suffering and a tolerance for transgression that was exclusive and natural with him.

In it was his greatness and his weakness as a novelist. As Swanberg sees it, the astonishing thing about Dreiser's philosophy was not its profundity but the vast hunger it revealed.

In 1900 the public was not ready for "Sister Carrie" Not a single critic saw it as a novel so transcendent in its realism and its humanity that it stood alone and called for a new standard of criticism.

Four hundred fifty-six copies were sold that year and Dreiser received $68 40. In 1902 alone, the banal "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" sold 170,000 copies. Dreiser was crushed.

After a period of retreat as editor of a magazine for Butterick, he started turning out short stories like a literary factory, never flagging in his battle against mildewed American concepts and proprieties. He flayed the philistines at every hand, receiving 10 rejections for every story he sold.

The fine novel "Jennie Gerhardt" in 1910 found few buyers. "The Genius" was banned even before publication in 1915. With the help of H. L. Mencken and others, Dreiser fought on, in court, in his letters and above all in his endless flow of short stories.

The novel "An American Tragedy" in 1925 has been called his masterpiece. It was pure Dreiser, based on a true story of seduction, murder and execution. The manuscript ran to a million words and as usual, Dreiser didn't try to edit it. It was cut, by secretaries and others, to about 385,000 words or 840 pages.

Success at last. The day of the philistines was waning, but so was Dreiser.

Social Jousting

The author spent his last 20 years of life mostly jousting with social and philosophical issues, a job for which he was not equipped. His ideology was too laden with contradictions, emotional rather than practical. Mencken, Dreiser's friend for 40 years, chided him constantly for leaving his writing for such "clowning."

Who can assess such a contradictory life: Dreiser the liar who demanded truth in the world; the hater who called for love; the money grubber who denounced capital; the glorifier of the proletariat who held the mass in contempt; the relentless love cheat who asked for high moral order; the ego so vast it exempted only himself from his own standards?

As with so many artists, the work was colossal and the life a sham. The man was driven by primal passions he could neither govern nor analyze. If Dreiser had not himself pre-empted the words for one of his titles, Swanberg might indeed have called this study "An American Tragedy."

New Parts For Old

The Rebuilt Man. By Fred Warshofsky; Crowell.

If man, mortal that he is, stands with one foot ever in the grave, he now also stands with the other foot firmly planted in the future, thanks to medicine's new frontier, the replacement of failing human organs with spare parts.

The barrier remains the body's complex protective system which repels foreign tissue as it does invading bacteria. While success in suppressing this rejection mechanism is limited as yet, cases are cited in which X-ray and chemotherapy have apparently hurdled the barrier and prolonged life for months . . . 18 in one case . . . in unrelated kidney transplants.

The author discusses not only clinical aspects but moral and psychological implications involving transplantation from living and dead donors, animal donors and the use of artificial devices

America's three major religious faiths have met the challenge head on, concurring that transplantation falls within the biblical injunction to preserve life, he notes.

Warshofsky, science and medical editor of Parade magazine, writes of this new threshold on which we stand with a detail and lucidity of interest to both doctor and layman.

Ruin Lies In Triumph

God Bless This Child. By Kristin Hunter, Scribner's

Rosie is fighting to overcome the menaces of her color, of living in the "black belt" of her city, of her family background and of her poverty. In her desperate struggle she becomes involved in the numbers racket.

Rosie's triumph when she buys a house in the white district is short lived, because Rosie has overextended herself both financially and health-wise Her death and financial ruin climax the story.

This is not a pretty book —it is brutal in spots as it depicts the difficulties of the Negro

Life May Show Up On Mars

Mariner Probe To Offer Clue

By RALPH DIGHTON

Pasadena, Calif. P—Not far away as the cosmos goes—close enough to hit with a rocket if we wished—lies a world intriguingly similar to our own.

It has:

White caps at its north and south poles just as earth does and they grow smaller in summer as if melting under the heat of the sun.

Spreading raggedly toward the equator from these caps are vast areas which darken in spring as if there was vegetation fed by water from melting polar ice.

On that world which has a day only 37 minutes longer than earth's temperatures rise at noon to a comfortable 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

What are its "canals" — are they structures built by intelligent tool-wielding beings?

Do these beings still live — adapting through evolution to a world which though similar in some aspects is far different from our own?

No Chlorophyll

Despite its zones of apparent "vegetation," analysis of light from Mars has never disclosed a trace of chlorophyll the green matter in earth plants.

Strongest argument against the possibility of life on Mars is the simple fact that long range analysis of its air—mostly nitrogen — shows no oxygen at all.

Speculation has centered on Mars because it is the only other planet in this solar system likely to support any form of life. All others are too close to the sun and therefore too hot, too far away and consequently too cold, enveloped in poisonous gases or composed of gases with no solid core.

That's the main reason Mars was chosen as the first planet to be photographed — target of the U.S. Spacecraft Mariner 4 scheduled to fly past Mars July 14 taking pictures as close as 6,800 miles. The picture-taking will culminate a project that began with the launching of Mariner 4 last Nov. 27 from Cape Kenedy.

Mariner 4 will streak across the face of Mars from north to south and pulled by the planet's gravity curve around behind it.

Distant Check

For a few minutes radio signals from Mariner 4 will be filtered by Mars' atmosphere. scattering of radio waves the amount of scatter should indicate the density of Mars' atmosphere particularly at the South Pole.

With its closest pictures taken at a distance of 6,800 miles from Mars Mariner 4 can't do much more than confirm or deny the existence of the lines and smudges called "canals" and "oases."

Whether the planet supports minor forms of life—such as earth's moss-like lichen — won't be determined until larger Voyager spacecraft land there in the 1970s with claws to scoop up samples of the surface and television-linked microscopes to analyze what they find.

Public Clamors for Right To Visit Famed Alcatraz

By LYLE W. PRICE

San Francisco (AP) — Alcatraz Island's notoriety may have slipped, but the famed prison site remains as aloof and mysterious as ever in its picture-postcard setting in San Francisco Bay.

The tiny island, which hasn't seen a criminal since the prison closed in June, 1963, is still off limits to the public. It can't even have visiting hours.

Although it is gallows humor even today to suggest a "visit" to the island, Alcatrz is in fact a genine tourist attraction. Camerabugs delight in snapping its stony features from Fisherman's Wharf and the Golden Gate Bridge.

Lately the public has actively complained about the "look but don't touch" rule and has clamored for public use of the 12-acre isle.

'Liberty' of West

One proposal, now before Congress, would turn Alcatraz into a United Nations' monument. Another popular idea is to establish a western Statue of Liberty.

To caretaker John Hart and his son William, assistant caretaker, the island's popularity means they spend increasing time waving away boatloads of would-be tourists.

"It's getting to be a problem," Hart said. "especially any time the island gets a little publicity. People wonder why they can't visit."

"It's just not safe for tourists here," Hart said. "The old prison buildings cover two-thirds of the island and are in bad condition. There are no facilities for tourists and no staff to supervise them."

No News

But Hart said he understands why Alcatraz would be a tourist attraction: The mystery and notoriety.

"Alcatraz has been shrouded in secrecy for years," he said "It was official policy while it was a prison. There was almost no news given out, even during escapes.

"Also, we used to get the most notorious criminals in America, although not necessarily the toughest. We got the troublemakers from the other prisons in the country."

Hart has been employed at Alcatraz for 17 years. He and his wife, Marie, raised five children there. All went on to other occupations except William.

The younger Hart now has his own family — his wife, Carol, and daughters Debbie 5, and Kimmie, 2½. Both families live on the island year-around and commute to San Francisco by boat when they wish

Vaccination Against Pregnancy 'Possible'

Chicago Daily News Special

Chicago — Research that is leading to the development of a growing number of vaccines offers the "speculative possibility" that women could be immunized against pregnancy.

Dr. James G Telfer of the American Medical Assn's department of environmental health suggested this.

The possibility also stems from finding that some infertile couples are unable to conceive because of male-female immunological barrier.

Overpopulation may eventually be prevented by vaccination, Dr. Telfer said, but he emphasized he was not necessarily endorsing such an approach

Catholics Post Gains

Washington (UPI) — The Roman Catholic population of the United States increased by 711,248 persons during the last year to a record high of 45,640,619, the official Catholic directory reveals.

The increase of 1.7% was roughly equivalent to the growth rate of the overall U.S. population, and was below the 2.3% increase in Protestant church membership reported earlier by the 1965 Yearbook of American Churches.

This is the first time in many years that Protestants have held an edge in reported growth rates. Last year, the statistics showed a Catholic gain of 2.3% and a Protestant gain of only .8%.

Since 1955, the Catholic population has grown by about 12 million persons, or 40%. The Protestant population has increased by about 10 million, or 18%. Protestants still outnumber Catholics by a substantial margin, however. The 1965 Yearbook of American Churches shows a total Protestant church membership of 66,854,200 And the Protestant total does not include millions of children under 12, who are not counted as full members in most Protestant bodies, whereas the Catholic figure includes baptized infants.

First Attempt Was Exciting

Wichita, Kan. (AP) — Larry Ryan, 24, of Scott City, Kan got his private pilot's license after being checked by an instructor at the Wichita Municipal Airport here.

Two hours after getting the license, he taxied out alone in a small plane at the airport. A strong gust of wind lifted the right wing. The craft was tossed into the air, landing upside down 90 feet away. Ryan was unhurt.
